Israeli-Arab War Breaks Out on Two Fronts

Boston Riots Leave Wake Of Disaster

BOSTON (AP)—Three nights of rock throwing, looting, arson and scattered sniper fire in the predominantly Negro Roxbury section have left more than 70 persons injured, 100 arrested, and property damage estimated in the millions.

Three state representatives from Boston Negro sections asked Republican Gov. John A. Volpe today to declare the riot-torn sector a disaster area to make loans and federal aid available to businessmen there.

"The people in this community are appalled at the violence, wanton waste, deliberate destruction of property, the loss of jobs held by people in the community and the unnecessary escalation of the problems in financing insurance and achieving economic resurgence of these areas," a letter said.

It was signed by Democratic Reps. Royall Bolling, Michael E. Haynes and Franklin W. Holgate, Negro leaders who have been credited with helping to keep peace in the city's sprawling Negro districts in past years.

The focal point of violence Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights was Blue Hill Avenue, a major street leading from the city's shopping and business sections to the southeast residential areas and suburb.

Fire fighter responding to a call at an intersection about 10 p.m. Sunday were pelted with rocks thrown from rooftops.

No accurate estimate of damage has been made, although community leaders place the loss in millions of dollars. Most of the damage was in smashed store and car windows and from fires and looting.

Police said Sunday's outbreak was the mildest of the three nights. "It was only sporadic," said Deputy Police Supt. William A. Bradley, "most of it rock throwing."

The violence was touched off Friday after a group of mothers demonstrating for better treatment from welfare workers and quicker processing of claims were ejected by police from a city building in the Grove Hall section of Roxbury.

The incident grew into an all-night running battle between police and small groups of looters.

Police said about 1,000 officers took on about 1,000 rioters during the night. Damage from that outbreak was estimated at $500,000.

Saturday night's outbreak left 15 persons injured, including a fireman shot in the wrist.

Fires set by arsonists were reported all three nights.

Much of Roxbury, especially a 15-block segment of Blue Hill Avenue was littered with broken glass, rocks, bricks, bottles and beer cans. Many store fronts were boarded shut.

BOSTON THE MORNING AFTER . . . A "sit-in" by a group of women welfare recipients in the Roxbury section of Boston led to a riot. Stores were looted, fires were set, and rocks and bottles were thrown at the police, who are shown viewing the debris-laden Blue Hill Ave. early Saturday following the all-night melee.

Letters Protest Proposed County Airport Location

Pickaway County Commissioners today received three letters protesting the location of an airport on the County Home property and land owned by Sterley and Forrest Croman on Route 22 east of Circleville.

Writing the letters were Melvin Maxwell, president of the Circleville Bible College; the Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Humble and Mr. and Mrs. Ora Benner.

The Humbles and the Benners reside on the Bolender-Pontious Road near the proposed airport site.

Maxwell, who pointed out that a new airport would be advantageous to the county, objected to the location because of its proximity to the new Circleville Bible College Campus.

THE LETTERS from the other residents cited the noise and danger potential of the low flying airplanes in the vicinity.

The nearness of the Children's Home, Washington Twp. School, Nicholas Drive, Circleville High School, Berger Hospital and residential areas were cited by the letter writers to back up their objections.

In spite of the recent letters of protest, the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce is quietly proceeding with its fund-raising campaign to bring an airport to Pickaway County.

Tonight at 7:30 p. m. the Jaycees plan to erect a "thermometer" at the Courthouse where a day-to-day tabulation of the money pledged will be kept.

The Jaycee fund-raising drive has received the backing of several civic organizations, according to Asa Elsea, who is chair-maning the campaign.

To date, the Jaycees have received pledges totaling $3,500.

Richard Speck Is Sentenced To Execution

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Richard Speck, 25, was sentenced today to death in the electric chair for murdering eight nurses in their Chicago townhouse dormitory July 14, 1966.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Circuit Court carried out the recommendation of the jury that convicted Speck on April 15. The jury recommended death but the judge was not bound to impose the maximum penalty.

The sentencing put in motion what is expected to be a series of drawn-out appeals.

An appeal to a higher court is automatic in cases involving capital punishment and the procedures for making such appeals nearly always take a great deal of time.

Speck, a 25-year-old drifter, was transported from the Cook County Jail to the Peoria County Jail Sunday under heavy guard. Speck was tried in Peoria after Getty contended he could not get a fair trial in Chicago.

In the latest of a series of moves in Speck's behalf, Getty brought a psychiatrist to a hearing Friday. The psychiatrist testified that Speck had a serious mental disease and could not control his behavior at times of high tension.

But the prosecution pointed out that five psychiatrists and a general doctor had agreed last fall that Speck was mentally competent.

War Makes Market Reel

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today reeled under the shock of Israeli-Arab hostilities and for a while showed the worst loss in 3½ years but had cut its losses considerably in early afternoon.

Stock was dumped indiscriminately in early trading as losses ran from fractions to 3 or 4 points among many market wheelhouses, but these losses were pared considerably.

At the end of the first hour the Dow Jones industrial average showed a loss of 20.77 but by noon this was reduced to 11.14 with the closely watched indicator at 852.17.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down to an out-size loss of 314.5 with industrials off 7.8, rails off 3.2 and utilities off 1.1.

Bob Kennedy Goes All-Out For Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson got a big political windfall in New York over the weekend—a surprisingly warm and unqualified endorsement from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

After months of talk of feuding and ill will, Kennedy followed Johnson to the rostrum at a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday night and, addressing his fellow New Yorkers, gave his all-out blessing for 1968 to Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Kennedy, in effect, overshadowed the President's own speech.

"Webster defines greatness as largeness of size, much above the average in magnitude, intensity and importance," Kennedy said, adding that the definition could have been written for Johnson.

"The height of his aim, the breadth of his achievements, the record of his past and the promises of his future—all these speak the largeness of size, that magnitude of effort, that intensity of devotion and the importance of accomplishment," said Kennedy.

Kennedy has previously endorsed Johnson and Humphrey for 1968 but not in such lengthy or effusive terms. And his embrace came only a few days after the latest of moves by Kennedy supporters—whom he has disavowed—to place his name on some presidential primary election ballots.

Looking ahead to next year's presidential election, New York's junior senator said of Johnson: "In 1964 he won the biggest popular victory in modern times and with our help he will do so again in 1968. And with our help, he will have by his side the best vice president since his predecessor."

Humphrey's predecessor was, of course, Johnson, who served as John F. Kennedy's vice president.

From this dinner, a $100-a-plate affair sponsored by the state Democratic organization, Johnson rode with Kennedy in the presidential limousine to another Manhattan hotel and two other party fund-raising events.

Jury Finds Jim Brown Innocent

CLEVELAND (AP)—The attorney for Miss Brenda Ayres, who lost a jury verdict in her paternity suit against former football star Jim Brown, says no decision has been made concerning an appeal.

We probably will decide about an appeal some time this week," Russell T. Adrine, the lawyer, said Sunday night.

Brown, former fullback for the Cleveland Browns, was absolved of the paternity of Shelle Monique Ayres, 15-month-old daughter of Miss Ayres, 20, in juvenile court Saturday afternoon.

The jury deliberated 11½ hours over two days in reaching a verdict following eight days of testimony.

Only nine jurors were required to concur on a verdict because the paternity suit was a civil case.

Brown, who was in London completing work on a movie, was tried in absentia. He declined comment on the case when he returned home Saturday night.

In July, 1965, a municipal court jury acquitted Brown of assault and battery following a complaint by Miss Ayres.

Pending in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court is a $100,000 civil damage suit against Brown filed by Brenda's mother, Mrs. Barbara Ayres. Mrs. Ayres alleges that Brown beat her daughter in a motel on June 20, 1965.

Clemency Denied Toledo Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes denied executive clemency today for a Toledo slayer scheduled for execution Wednesday in Ohio Penitentiary.

Acting on unanimous recommendation of the Parole Board, Rhodes refused to stay death in the electric chair for John C. McClellan for the fatal stabbing of Raymond Espinosa, 17, during an argument in Toledo Dec. 15, 1964.

Espinosa's body was found the following day in Monroe County, Mich., by highway patrolmen of that state.

Hilsman Quit Over LBJ's War Policy

Says Bombing Decided Before Infiltration

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former top State Department official says he quit the Johnson administration because it took a military approach to victory in Vietnam—a course he believes President John F. Kennedy would have tried to avoid.

Roger Hilsman, former assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, also suggested that despite administration comments to the contrary, President Johnson decided to launch regular bombing of North Vietnam before Hanoi began mass infiltration of men and supplies southward. The administration has said the bombing was in retaliation for Hanoi's aggression.

Hilsman said the bombing was aimed at forcing Hanoi to its knees.

President Kennedy "was skeptical of a policy of escalation and of the effectiveness of an air attack on North Vietnam," Hilsman said.

Hilsman appeared on the CBS program "Face the Nation" Sunday and talked about his new book, "To Move a Nation."

Several other prominent officials spoke out Sunday on Vietnam and the Middle East crisis in radio-television appearances, commencement exercises and speeches.

One of those discussing the bombing of North Vietnam was Bill D. Moyers, Johnson's former press secretary.

He told a St. Michael's College commencement audience in Winooski, Vt., that the so-called hawks should recognize power has its limits while the doves, or peace advocates, should concede power has its place.

But in Hartford, Conn., Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said that "increasingly, the war in Vietnam is an American effort on Asian soil, rather than an Asian effort with American help."

The U.S. commitment in the Far East, he said at Trinity College, adversely affects its position in Europe and the Middle East.

Percy did endorse U.S. involvement in the Middle East crisis, saying Israel's right to use the Gulf of Aqaba must be preserved.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., one of the sharpest critics of Johnson's Vietnam policy, said the United States should take the lead in breaking the blockade.

Morse's view was challenged by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., who said the United States should act only in conjunction with other nations.

Morse and Stennis appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Thant Addresses Crisis Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant reported today Jordanian forces had taken over headquarters of the U.N. truce supervision organization in Jerusalem and that he had sent an urgent appeal to King Hussein to order their withdrawal.

Thant addressed an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council summoned to consider a call for an immediate cease-fire in the conflict between Israel and the Arab countries.

The secretary general also reported that Israeli planes had strafed a motor convoy of Indian troops assigned to the U.N. Emergency Force and three Indian soldiers had been killed.

He said headquarters of the U.N. observer organization, located in Government House, Jerusalem, had lost contact with the UNEF forces that were in the process of being withdrawn from Gaza and parts of Egypt.

Thant said Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, chief of the truce organization, had demanded withdrawal of the Jordanian troops but they had refused. Meanwhile, he added, fighting had broken out between the Jordanians and Israeli forces on the grounds of Government House.

The council debate began as members consulted privately on a resolution calling for a cease-fire.

Israeli Jets Bomb Cairo Area Targets

CAIRO (AP)—Israeli jets bombed targets in the Cairo area today, including the region of the airport, but no bombs fell on the downtown area of the Egyptian capital.

There was no sign of panic and crowds of Egyptians cheered, danced in the streets and jammed around car radios for news after broadcasts told them Egypt had gone to war with Israel.

A huge roar went up from the crowds when the high command broadcast an announcement claiming 73 Israeli planes had been shot down. A military spokesman said three Israeli jets were downed in the Cairo raids and two of the pilots were captured.

Two Soviet-built Egyptian MIGs flew over the city during one air raid alert in pursuit of an Israeli plane.

Traffic moved jerkily. Later a huge mob took to the streets shouting "Nasser, Nasser," hailing the Egyptian president.

In midafternoon, Israeli jets struck at an iron and steel complex south of Cairo at Helwan and reportedly scored several hits. This could not be confirmed.

Military checkpoints were set up on principal highways in Egypt and only essential military and public assistance traffic was permitted to move during air raid alerts.

Roundtown

ACCIDENTS continue to occur at the intersection of Crites Road and Route 23 where the State Highway Department erected warning signals a year ago . . .

The Ohio State Highway Patrol reported said today that nearly all the accidents which occur at the intersection involve local people . . . Human error is the cause . . .

The OSP feels the intersection would not be dangerous if proper caution were used . . . The accidents that do happen are "high speed" collisions because traffic on Route 23 is usually traveling at 60 miles per hour . . .

The Patrol emphasized there is ample visibility in both directions in spite of the rate of speed of Route 23 traffic if the person entering the intersection exercises proper caution.

Another Power Failure Hits Cities in East

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A giant power failure hit sections of the East Coast from New Jersey to Delaware at midmorning today. Electricity was restored in sections of Philadelphia an hour later.

The blackout hit Newark and Philadelphia and other cities in a populous area that was not affected by the great Northeastern blackout of November, 1965.

New York City and other areas hit by the 1965 blackout were not affected this time.

The Public Service Co. of New Jersey said the failure occurred in an interconnecting line tying together the power systems of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The company said the specific trouble had not been located, and it could not say when service would be restored.

The utility said eight of its nine generating stations were knocked out.

Lights were out, radio stations off the air, telephones were disrupted, and state and city governments operated on emergency power.

Jury Selection For Levine Trial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Selection of a jury began Monday for the first-degree murder trial of Harry (Benny) Levine Jr. in county criminal court.

Levine, 19, of Columbus, is being tried for the murder of his mother, Greta, who was found dead along with her husband, Harry Levine Sr., and the defendant's grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Perrott in a Columbus apartment last Dec. 10.

Area Targets

Sinai Desert Is Scene of Major Fight

JERUSALEM (AP)—For the third time in 20 years, war broke out today in the Middle East and gunfire sounded in Israel and in three of its Arab neighbors — Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The Arabs, sworn to destroy Israel, were battling the Jewish state's forces on two fronts, at Egypt's Sinai frontier and on the Syria and Jordan borders.

Each side accused the other of lighting the fuse for the explosion which, as in 1956, threatened to involve the major powers.

The main fighting today appeared to be in the Sinai Desert, across the frontier that United Nations forces guarded until Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered them out 18 days ago.

Artillery fire was heard in Jerusalem, the holy city divided between Jordan and Israel. Israel's port of Haifa was bombed. Israeli planes attacked the airports of three Arab capitals, Cairo, Amman and Damascus. Amman radio, the voice of King Hussein, reported heavy fighting along Jordan's 350-mile frontier with Israel.

Cairo said Israeli planes attacked Sharm El Sheikh, the point overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba — the area Nasser has blocked to Israeli ships in the central controversy that brought on the fighting.

The Egyptian high command admitted that Israeli forces had penetrated into the Sinai desert on the southern front and into Khan Younes, in the middle of the Gaza Strip to the north.

"The enemy has struck our positions in these locations and has been repulsed," a military spokesman in Cairo said.

The attack in Sinai was on the road from the desert frontier to Ismailia, which lines about midway on the Suez Canal, the announcement said.

British Foreign Secretary George Brwn announced in London that the fighting is spreading all around Israel, that Jerusalem is "engulfed in war," and that four British diplomatic

U.S. To Keep Neutrality In New War

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is neutral in the present Middle East war, the State Department's spokesman announced today.

"Our position is neutral in thought, word and deed," press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference.

At the same time the State Department restricted the travel of American citizens to 14 countries — 13 Arab countries and Israel — until further notice.

"In view of the outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East U.S. citizens desiring to go to the following countries must obtain passports specifically endorsed by the State Department," McCloskey said.

He listed the countries as: Lebanon, the United Arab Republic, Jordan, Syria, Israel, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Yemen, Libya, Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Sudan.

Asked whether the United States can maintain the neutral position announced today, McCloskey said, "That will be our effort."

He said that the ambassadors summoned earlier today to the State Department were informed about this decision.

Responding to a barrage of questions at his news conference, McCloskey said that all U.S. aid programs, military and economic, to the 15 countries "are urgently under review."

Earlier, the White House and members of Congress urged both sides in the war to support the United Nations Security Council's efforts to bring about an immediate cease-fire.

Man Loses Eye During Burglary

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—A 25-year-old old Garfield Heights man lost one eye and his other eye was injured when he was hit in the face by a shotgun blast during a burglary at a private golf club at nearby Canal Fulton, Stark County sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Edward Hoffee was shot by William Lyons, the club owner, after Lyons discovered him in the pro shop early Sunday. Lyons told the officers he fired the gun after Hoffee refused his orders to come out with his hands up.

Deputies said no charges have been filed against Hoffee.

Many Cannot Meet Draft's Lowered Mental Standards

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite lowered mental standards, more than 176,000 American youths were rejected for the draft last year because they were unable to meet even those requirements.

Another 23,555 were turned down on both mental and medical grounds at preinduction examinations in 1966.

The lower standards, however, resulted in only about 12 per cent of potential draftees flunking mental requirements in 1966 compared with nearly 21 per cent in 1965.

These statistics appear in a report by the Army surgeon general dealing with results of examinations of youths for military service last year.

"The most significant factor that affected these results was the increased demand for military manpower caused by the intensified Vietnam conflict," the surgeon general's report said.

It brought about "decisive modifications in the standards of military acceptability—specifically, by lowering the mental standards."

The report said the mental evaluation of a potential inductee is based on tests designed to measure his general mental ability to absorb military training within reasonable time and his potential general usefulness to the service.

The 176,027 who failed to meet mental requirements last year from 1965, a year of tougher standards.

The 23,555 who were both mentally and physically disqualified were some 5,000 below the previous year.

The report showed 108,259 white youths flunked mental qualification in 1966 compared with 137,225 in 1965—a drop of about 21 per cent.

Among Negro youths, 67,774 failed to meet mental standards compared with 90,584 in 1965—a decline of about 25 per cent.

The number of youths examined for the draft vaulted sharply in 1966, under the impetus of the Vietnam buildup. The 1966 total of those examined came to 1.61 million compared with 1.23 million in 1965.

He told a St. Michael's College commencement audience in Winoski, Vt., that the so-called hawks should recognize power has its limits while the doves, or peace advocates, should concede power has its place.

But in Hartford, Conn., Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said that "increasingly, the war in Vietnam is an American effort on Asian soil, rather than an Asian effort with American help."

The U.S. commitment in the Far East, he said at Trinity College, adversely affects its position in Europe and the Middle East.

Percy did endorse U.S. involvement in the Middle East crisis, saying Israel's right to use the Gulf of Aqaba must be preserved.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., one of the sharpest critics of Johnson's Vietnam policy, said the United States should take the lead in breaking the blockade.

Morse's view was challenged by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., who said the United States should act only in conjunction with other nations.

Morse and Stennis appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Roundtown

ACCIDENTS continue to occur at the intersection of Crites Road and Route 23 where the State Highway Department erected warning signals a year ago . . .

The Ohio State Highway Patrol reported said today that nearly all the accidents which occur at the intersection involve local people . . . Human error is the cause . . .

The OSP feels the intersection would not be dangerous if proper caution were used . . . The accidents that do happen are "high speed" collisions because traffic on Route 23 is usually traveling at 60 miles per hour . . .

The Patrol emphasized there is ample visibility in both directions in spite of the rate of speed of Route 23 traffic if the person entering the intersection exercises proper caution.

Another Power Failure Hits Cities in East

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A giant power failure hit sections of the East Coast from New Jersey to Delaware at midmorning today. Electricity was restored in sections of Philadelphia an hour later.

The blackout hit Newark and Philadelphia and other cities in a populous area that was not affected by the great Northeastern blackout of November, 1965.

New York City and other areas hit by the 1965 blackout were not affected this time.

The Public Service Co. of New Jersey said the failure occurred in an interconnecting line tying together the power systems of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The company said the specific trouble had not been located, and it could not say when service would be restored.

The utility said eight of its nine generating stations were knocked out.

Lights were out, radio stations off the air, telephones were disrupted, and state and city governments operated on emergency power.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Secretary-General U Thant reported today Jordanian forces had taken over headquarters of the U.N. truce supervision organization in Jerusalem and that he had sent an urgent appeal to King Hussein to order their withdrawal.

Thant addressed an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council summoned to consider a call for an immediate cease-fire in the conflict between Israel and the Arab countries.

The secretary general also reported that Israeli planes had strafed a motor convoy of the U.N. Emergency Force and three Indian soldiers had been killed.

He said headquarters of the U.N. observer organization, located in Government House, Jerusalem, had lost contact with the UNEF forces that were in the process of being withdrawn from Gaza and parts of Egypt.

Thant said Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, chief of the truce organization, had demanded withdrawal of the Jordanian troops but they had refused. Meanwhile, he added, fighting had broken out between the Jordanians and Israeli forces on the grounds of Government House.

The council debate began as members consulted privately on a resolution calling for a cease-fire.

Israeli Jets Bomb Cairo Area Targets

CAIRO (AP) — Israeli jets bombed targets in the Cairo area today, including the region of the airport, but no bombs fell on the downtown area of the Egyptian capital.

There was no sign of panic and crowds of Egyptians cheered, danced in the streets and jammed around car radios for news after broadcasts told them Egypt had gone to war with Israel.

A huge roar went up from the crowds when the high command broadcast an announcement claiming 73 Israeli planes had been shot down. A military spokesman said three Israeli jets were downed in the Cairo raids and two of the pilots were captured.

Two Soviet-built Egyptian MIGs flew over the city during one air raid alert in pursuit of an Israeli plane.

Traffic moved jerkily. Later a huge mob took to the streets shouting "Nasser, Nasser," hailing the Egyptian president.

In midafternoon, Israeli jets struck at an iron and steel complex south of Cairo at Helwan and reportedly scored several hits. This could not be confirmed.

Military checkpoints were set up on principal highways in Egypt and only essential military and public assistance traffic was permitted to move during air raid alerts.

U.S. To Keep Neutrality In New War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is neutral in the present Middle East war, the State Department's spokesman announced today.

"Our position is neutral in thought, word and deed," press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference.

At the same time the State Department restricted the travel of American citizens to 14 countries — 13 Arab countries and Israel — until further notice.

"In view of the outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East U.S. citizens desiring to go to the following countries must obtain passports specifically endorsed by the State Department," McCloskey said.

He listed the countries as: Lebanon, the United Arab Republic, Jordan, Syria, Israel, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Yemen, Libya, Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Sudan.

Asked whether the United States can maintain the neutral position announced today, McCloskey said, "That will be our effort."

He said that the ambassadors summoned earlier today to the State Department were informed about this decision.

Responding to a barrage of questions at his news conference, McCloskey said that all U.S. aid programs, military and economic, to the 15 countries "are urgently under review."

Earlier, the White House and members of Congress urged both sides in the war to support the United Nations Security Council's efforts to bring about an immediate cease-fire.

Deputies said no charges have been filed against Hoffee.

Man Loses Eye During Burglary
MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — A 25-year-old Garfield Heights man lost one eye and his other eye was injured when he was hit in the face by a shotgun blast during a burglary at a private golf club at nearby Canal Fulton, Stark County sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Edward Hoffee was shot by William Lyons, the club owner, after Lyons discovered him in the pro shop early Sunday. Lyons told the officers he fired the gun after Hoffee refused his orders to come out with his hands up.

Deputies said no charges have been filed against Hoffee.

Many Cannot Meet Draft's Lowered Mental Standards
WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite lowered mental standards, more than 176,000 American youths were rejected for the draft last year because they were unable to meet even those requirements.

Another 23,555 were turned down on both mental and medical grounds at preinduction examinations in 1966.

The lower standards, however, resulted in only about 12 per cent of potential draftees flunking mental requirements in 1966 compared with nearly 21 per cent in 1965.

These statistics appear in a report by the Army surgeon general dealing with results of examinations of youths for military service last year.

"The most significant factor that affected these results was the increased demand for military manpower caused by the intensified Vietnam conflict," the surgeon general's report said.

It brought about "decisive modifications in the standards of military acceptability—specifically, by lowering the mental standards."

The report said the mental evaluation of a potential inductee is based on tests designed to measure his general mental ability to absorb military training within reasonable time and his potential general usefulness to the service.

The 176,027 who failed to meet mental requirements last year from 1965, a year of tougher standards.

The 23,555 who were both mentally and physically disqualified were some 5,000 below the previous year.

The report showed 108,259 white youths flunked mental qualification in 1966 compared with 137,225 in 1965—a drop of about 21 per cent.

Among Negro youths, 67,774 failed to meet mental standards compared with 90,584 in 1965—a decline of about 25 per cent.

The number of youths examined for the draft vaulted sharply in 1966, under the impetus of the Vietnam buildup. The 1966 total of those examined came to 1.61 million compared with 1.23 million in 1965.

Sinai Desert Is Scene of Major Fight

JERUSALEM (AP)—For the third time in 20 years, war broke out today in the Middle East and gunfire sounded in Israel and in three of its Arab neighbors — Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The Arabs, sworn to destroy Israel, were battling the Jewish state's forces on two fronts, at Egypt's Sinai frontier and on the Syria and Jordan borders.

Each side accused the other of lighting the fuse for the explosion which, as in 1956, threatened to involve the major powers.

The main fighting today appeared to be in the Sinai Desert, across the frontier that United Nations forces guarded until Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered them out 18 days ago.

Artillery fire was heard in Jerusalem, the holy city divided between Jordan and Israel. Israel's port of Haifa was bombed. Israeli planes attacked the airports of three Arab capitals: Cairo, Amman and Damascus.

Amman radio, the voice of King Hussein, reported heavy fighting along Jordan's 350-mile frontier with Israel.

Cairo said Israeli planes attacked Sharm El Sheikh, the point overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba — the area Nasser has blocked to Israeli ships in the central controversy that brought on the fighting.

The Egyptian high command admitted that Israeli forces had penetrated into the Sinai desert on the southern front and into Khan Yunnes, in the middle of the Gaza Strip to the north.

"The enemy has struck our positions in these locations and has been repulsed," a military spokesman in Cairo said.

The attack in Sinai was on the road from the desert frontier to Ismailia, which lines about midway on the Suez Canal, the announcement said.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown announced in London that the fighting is spreading all around Israel, that Jerusalem is "engulfed in war," and that four British diplomatic

Steel Inventories Have Expected Housecleaning

CLEVELAND (AP)—“The expected housecleaning in steel inventories took a firm hold in the last three months,” Steel Magazine said today, reporting on a survey of metalworking industry buyers.

“Users trimmed stocks of all major categories of mill products, and they’ll continue to do so in the June-August period,” the trade publication reported.

Summarizing comments of the buyers, Steel said inventories “are still generally rated as ‘to high’” and sales “are still on a plateau.” Another factor cited by buyers was that deliveries from steel plants have been improving significantly.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant told an emergency session of the Security Council in New York that Jordanian forces had taken over headquarters of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization in Jerusalem. He sent an appeal to King Hussein of Jordan to order his troops withdrawn.

Thant told the council three Indian soldiers of the U.N. Emergency force were killed in the strafing of a convoy by Israeli planes. The War Ministry in Brasilia reported a Brazilian corporal assigned to the force was killed by a bullet in the head as the fighting erupted.

The U.N. Security Council, which had met fruitlessly for two weeks in an effort to preserve the peace, was called into emergency session in New York.

In Washington, the White House called on all parties to support the council, and said: “Tragic consequences will flow from this needless and destructive struggle if the fighting does not stop immediately.”

Auto Crash Sends Three To Berger

Three persons were treated and released at Berger Hospital for injuries sustained in a two car accident 11:45 p. m. Sunday at the intersection of Route 23 and Crites Road just south of Circleville.

Checked for bruises and abrasions were George W. Annenhenfley, 60, of 1310 S. Pickaway St., driver of one car; Linda Miller, 19, Columbus, driver of the second car; and Darlene Justice, 24, Columbus, a passenger in the Miller auto.

According to the Ohio State Highway Patrol, Miss Miller was northbound on Route 23 approaching the intersection when Annenhenfley, westbound on Crites Road, stopped and pulled out in front of her car. City police and the county sheriff's department assisted on the call. Annenhenfley was cited for failure to yield.

Berger Hospital Staff Treats Five Youngsters

Five youngsters were on the emergency treatment list at Berger Hospital during the past weekend. All were checked for various injuries and released.

Wendy Harber, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Harber, Route 2, Ashville, pulled over a mantle and received contusions and a fracture of her left foot.

Barbara Hinton, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hinton, Route 2, stepped on a broken jar and lacerated her left heel.

Clyde O'Dell, Route 4, was burned on both legs and his left arm from hot oil when the oil line on a tractor broke.

TV Writers Feel Stifled By Fear of Giving Offense

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A top television writer says that he and his fellow craftsmen “are being painted into a corner by self-censorship due to the cumulative effect of pressure groups.”

The latest hazard, says scripter Norman Jolley, is the American Italian Anti-Defamation League, for which Frank Sinatra recently became national chairman.

The networks' acquiescence to pressure groups has long rankled writers. They have said that they can't deal with reality because of orders not to offend any group. Businessmen object when an executive is portrayed as a villain; the same is true of doctors, Orientals, Indians, teachers, etc.

The writers' plaint was voiced by Jolley—author of 1,200 teleplays and currently writer for “The FBI.”—Saturday night at the alumni banquet of Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Before leaving for a return to his alma mater, Jolley explained: “The function of the writer is to hold a mirror up to nature. If he can't present the truth as he sees it, then he will be showing a distorted image.”

Jolley's speech was prompted by his experience with a two-part script he researched and wrote on the Cosa Nostra for “The FBI.”

Titled “The Executioners,” it was presented March 12 and 19 on ABC. Besides star Efrem Zimbalist, the show featured Walter Pidgeon, Telly Savalas, Celeste Holm and Susan Stras-berg. Jolley pointed out that not one actor of Italian derivation was cast, and only one Italian name, Clemente, was used in the script.

Jolley said that after the second segment was shown, the sponsor—Ford—received a telegram from New York Civil Court Judge Ross J. Dilenzo, president of the American Italian Anti-Defamation League.

He questioned the veracity of the script and added:

“If pure fabrication it would constitute outright defamation of many thousands of American-Italian college students (the villain was a collegiate who killed for the Mafia) and violation of FCC regulations.”

“In the name of 22 million American-Italians in the United States, we resent vehemently this type of program that slanders the decent, law-abiding citizens of an important ethnic group. We have been flooded with angry protests from our many members.”

In answer to Judge Dilenzo's protest, Jolley declared that “The Executioners” script was based on 15 different FBI cases, “with the names and incidents changed to protect the guilty.” He added: “We're at war now—with La Cosa Nostra. Will the A.I.D. stand up and be counted in this war—as the American-Italian did in World War II.”

The writer charged that a U.S. representative and senator joined the pressure campaign and as a result “The Executioners” was removed from the summer re-run schedule on ABC.

IBEW Strikes At Findlay RCA

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers struck the Radio Corp. of America plant here at midnight Sunday.

Police said about 20 pickets were on duty and there were no disturbances at the plant which employs 1,600 workers.

The strike here is part of a nationwide walkout against RCA that followed weekend voting on a contract which the IBEW submitted to its 32,000 members without recommendation. The vote count has not been announced but spokesmen for locals at several of the nine plants indicated the proposed contract was rejected by a big margin. The old contract expired Thursday.

Sandblasting Bids Opened By Commission

Pickaway County Commissioners today opened sealed bids submitted by five firms for sandblasting, masonry repair and painting of windows at the courthouse and jail.

The firms and their bids were: Meglene Masonry Co., $23,991; Edward A. Charbetz Co., $75,790; Werner Maintenance Inc., $37,881; Phillips and Lee, $12,900; General Maintenance, $22,650.

Before announcing the awarding of the bid, Commissioners met with Pickaway County Prosecuting attorney Robert Huffer. The contract was to be let at 2 p. m. today.

The apparent low bid of $12,900 did not include a cost estimate of painting and repair of windows according to Commissioners. However, they were told this morning by Huffer that it was a legal bid.

Fatally Injured By Thrown Rock

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 64-year-old man attending a church picnic here was struck and injured fatally by a rock Sunday as he was walking along a path in the park. Police said the rock apparently was thrown by one of several teen-age youths who were hurling rocks into Mill Creek from a parking area overlooking the path.

The victim, Ira E. Albert, a driver for the Youngstown Transit Co., was pronounced dead of a fractured skull at a hospital. Police said it was not known if Albert was hit intentionally.

Marines Smash Reds, Kill 570

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Marines smashed a Communist regiment 25 miles southwest of Da Nang and reported that 570 of the enemy were killed. Leatherneck casualties were 73 dead and 139 wounded.

The U.S. Command said the Marines rolled up their lopsided victory below the big Marine base at Da Nang against a crack Red regiment after two days of intense fighting. The Communist regiment, estimated about 3,000 men before the battle, slipped away to the north Saturday under intense air and artillery hammering.

Two U.S. planes were downed over North Vietnam during the weekend, bringing the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost over the North to 571.

An F105 Thunderchief was brought down by Communist ground fire Sunday but its pilot was rescued. A twin-engine B57 Canberra bomber went down Saturday night in a raid on the southern end of North Vietnam. Its two-man crew was missing.

Air Force pilots reported they completely enveloped a convoy of 20 trucks near Dong Hoi with heavy bombing Sunday. Another

Air Force sweep destroyed seven of eleven trucks in a convoy near Vinh.

The total number of Communist MIGs claimed shot down by U.S. fliers rose to 74 Saturday with the downing of two MIGs by Air Force pilots who were attacking a rail line running from Hanoi to China.

A flight of MIGs tried to intercept the raiding F105 Thunderchiefs. But U.S. pilots shot two of the sweep-wing Red fighters out of the skies with missile and cannon fire within 90 seconds.

The U.S. has so far lost 20 planes in aerial combat.

Communist guerrillas were beaten off in a dozen attacks on isolated posts in the Mekong delta Sunday night and this morning. U.S. helicopter gunships and the armed twin-engine transports known as Puff the Magic Dragon circled the embattled villages, helping local militia beat off the sudden rash of attacks. All the attacks were small.

U.S. military headquarters reported no significant ground fighting Monday although 16 major allied sweeps were under way throughout the country.

The Destroyer Berkeley was raked by Communist gunfire Sunday while shelling coastal targets just above the demilitarized zone. Shrapnel rained over the decks, but no damage was reported and there were no casualties.

In coastal Quang Ngai Province, a spotter plane sighted about 100 Communist troops in a rugged foothill area and artillery fire was called in. Infantry later sweeping the area counted 61 dead Communists.

On the coast of Quang Ngai, one of the most heavily Communist-infested provinces in the country, naval gunfire for the fourth time in a week uncovered a major Red base area. The Navy guns destroyed 17 log bunkers and caved in a long trench system.

Military headquarters said heavy weather blanketed the Hanoi-Haiphong area Sunday and raids on the north were restricted to supply lines south of the major red industrial area.

4 Dayton Youths Are Questioned About Shooting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—About half those arrested in a weekend disturbance remained in jail today as police continued to question four Negro youths about a shooting which touched off a rash of incidents.

The victim, Billy Farmer, 23, was shot outside a wine store Saturday night. He remained in serious condition early today in a Dayton hospital.

Sheriff Bernard Keith said Farmer, who is white, was shot by one of four Negro youths. They had been harassing Farmer and his girl friend, and an argument developed, witnesses said.

The incident took place in the Drexel area on the city's West Side. Racial violence broke out

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant told an emergency session of the Security Council in New York that Jordanian forces had taken over headquarters of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization in Jerusalem. He sent an appeal to King Hussein of Jordan to order his troops withdrawn.

Thant told the council three Indian soldiers of the U.N. Emergency force were killed in the strafing of a convoy by Israeli planes. The War Ministry in Brasilia reported a Brazilian corporal assigned to the force was killed by a bullet in the head as the fighting erupted.

The U.N. Security Council, which had met fruitlessly for two weeks in an effort to preserve the peace, was called into emergency session in New York.

In Washington, the White House called on all parties to support the council, and said: “Tragic consequences will flow from this needless and destructive struggle if the fighting does not stop immediately.”

Auto Crash Sends Three To Berger

Three persons were treated and released at Berger Hospital for injuries sustained in a two-car accident 11:45 p. m. Sunday at the intersection of Route 23 and Crites Road just south of Circleville.

Checked for bruises and abrasions were George W. Annehenfley, 60, of 1310 S. Pickaway St., driver of one car; Linda Miller, 19, Columbus, driver of the second car; and Darlene Justice, 24, Columbus, a passenger in the Miller auto.

According to the Ohio State Highway Patrol, Miss Miller was northbound on Route 23 approaching the intersection when Annehenfley, westbound on Crites Road, stopped and pulled out in front of her car.

City police and the county sheriff’s department assisted on the call. Annehenfley was cited for failure to yield.

TV Writers Feel Stifled By Fear of Giving Offense

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A top television writer says that he and his fellow craftsmen “are being painted into a corner by self-censorship due to the cumulative effect of pressure groups.”

The latest hazard, says scripter Norman Jolley, is the American Italian Anti-Defamation League, for which Frank Sinatra recently became national chairman.

The networks’ acquiescence to pressure groups has long rankled writers. They have said that they can’t deal with reality because of orders not to offend any group. Businessman object when an executive is portrayed as a villain; the same is true of doctors, Orientals, Indians, teachers, etc.

The writers’ plaint was voiced by Jolley—author of 1,200 teleplays and currently writer for “The FBI.”—Saturday night at the alumni banquet of Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Before leaving for a return to his alma mater, Jolley explained: “The function of the writer is to hold a mirror up to nature. If he can’t present the truth as he sees it, then he will be showing a distorted image.”

Jolley’s speech was prompted by his experience with a two-part script he researched and wrote on the Cosa Nostra for “The FBI.”

Titled “The Executioners,” it was presented March 12 and 19 on ABC. Besides star Efrem Zimbalist, the show featured Walter Pidgeon, Telly Savalas, Celeste Holm and Susan Strasberg. Jolley pointed out that not one actor of Italian derivation was cast, and only one Italian name, Clemente, was used in the script.

Jolley said that after the second segment was shown, the sponsor—Ford—received a telegram from New York Civil Court Judge Ross J. Dileonzo, president of the American Italian Anti-Defamation League.

He questioned the veracity of the script and added:

“If pure fabrication it would constitute outright defamation of many thousands of American-Italian college students (the villain was a collegiate who killed for the Mafia) and violation of FCC regulations.”

“In the name of 22 million American-Italians in the United States, we resent vehemently this type of program that slanders the decent, law-abiding citizens of an important ethnic group. We have been flooded with angry protests from our many members.”

In answer to Judge Dileonzo’s protest, Jolley declared that “The Executioners” script was based on 15 different FBI cases, “with the names and incidents changed to protect the guilty.” He added: “We’re at war now—with La Cosa Nostra. Will the A.I.D. stand up and be counted in this war—as the American-Italian did in World War II.”

The writer charged that a U.S. representative and senator joined the pressure campaign and as a result “The Executioners” was removed from the summer re-run schedule on ABC.

IBEW Strikes At Findlay RCA

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers struck the Radio Corp. of America plant here at midnight Sunday.

Police said about 20 pickets were on duty and there were no disturbances at the plant which employs 1,600 workers.

The strike here is part of a nationwide walkout against RCA that followed weekend voting on a contract which the IBEW submitted to its 32,000 members without recommendation. The vote count has not been announced but spokesmen for locals at several of the nine plants indicated the proposed contract was rejected by a big margin. The old contract expired Thursday.

Sandblasting Bids Opened By Commission

Pickaway County Commissioners today opened sealed bids submitted by five firms for sandblasting, masonry repair and painting of windows at the courthouse and jail.

The firms and their bids were: Meglene Masonry Co., $23,991; Edward A. Charbetz Co., $75,790; Werner Maintenance Inc., $37,881; Phillips and Lee, $12,900; General Maintenance, $22,650.

Before announcing the awarding of the bid, Commissioners met with Pickaway County Prosecuting attorney Robert Huffer. The contract was to be let at 2 p. m. today.

The apparent low bid of $12,900 did not include a cost estimate of painting and repair of windows according to Commissioners. However, they were told this morning by Huffer that it was a legal bid.

Fatally Injured By Thrown Rock
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 64-year-old man attending a church picnic here was struck and injured fatally by a rock Sunday as he was walking along a path in the park. Police said the rock apparently was thrown by one of several teen-age youths who were hurling rocks into Mill Creek from a parking area overlooking the path.

The victim, Ira E. Albert, a driver for the Youngstown Transit Co., was pronounced dead of a fractured skull at a hospital. Police said it was not known if Albert was hit intentionally.

Marines Smash Reds, Kill 570

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Marines smashed a Communist regiment 25 miles southwest of Da Nang and reported that 570 of the enemy were killed. Leatherneck casualties were 73 dead and 139 wounded.

The U.S. Command said the Marines rolled up their lopsided victory below the big Marine base at Da Nang against a crack Red regiment after two days of intense fighting. The Communist regiment, estimated about 3,000 men before the battle, slipped away to the north Saturday under intense air and artillery hammering.

Two U.S. planes were downed over North Vietnam during the weekend, bringing the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost over the North to 571.

An F105 Thunderchief was brought down by Communist ground fire Sunday but its pilot was rescued. A twin-engine B57 Canberra bomber went down Saturday night in a raid on the southern end of North Vietnam. Its two-man crew was missing.

Air Force pilots reported they completely enveloped a convoy of 20 trucks near Dong Hoi with heavy bombing Sunday. Another

The total number of Communist MIGs claimed shot down by U.S. fliers rose to 74 Saturday with the downing of two MIGs by Air Force pilots who were attacking a rail line running from Hanoi to China.

A flight of MIGs tried to intercept the raiding F105 Thunderchiefs. But U.S. pilots shot two of the swept-wing Red fighters out of the skies with missile and cannon fire within 90 seconds.

The U.S. has so far lost 20 planes in aerial combat.

Communist guerrillas were beaten off in a dozen attacks on isolated posts in the Mekong delta Sunday night and this morning. U.S. helicopter gunships and the armed twin-engine transports known as Puff the Magic Dragon circled the embattled villages, helping local militia beat off the sudden rash of attacks. All the attacks were small.

U.S. military headquarters reported no significant ground fighting Monday although 16 may allied sweeps were under way throughout the country.

The Destroyer Berkeley was raked by Communist gunfire Sunday while shelling coastal targets just above the demilitarized zone. Shrapnel rained over the decks, but no damage was reported and there were no casualties.

In coastal Quang Ngai Province, a spotter plane sighted about 100 Communist troops in a rugged foothill area and artillery fire was called in. Infantry later sweeping the area counted 61 dead Communists.

On the coast of Quang Ngai, one of the most heavily Communist-infested provinces in the country, naval gunfire for the fourth time in a week uncovered a major Red base area. The Navy guns destroyed 17 log bunkers and caved in a long trench system.

Military headquarters said heavy weather blanketed the Hanoi-Haiphong area Sunday and raids on the north were restricted to supply lines south of the major red industrial area.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

A Vote Against Fun Hypnotists

DEAR ABBY: Last month my husband, Bob, took me to a popular night spot for dinner. As our dinner was served, a "Dr. X." as I shall call him, was introduced as the evening's entertainment.

Dr. X was billed as "the only hypnotist with a 'Ph.D.'" He asked for volunteers, promising that no one would be embarrassed, and they would all awaken from hypnosis feeling "refreshed."

My husband volunteered, resulting in one of the most shattering and exhausting experiences of his life. And I was subjected to humiliation beyond description, as I witnessed my husband and nine other subjects make fools of themselves for over an hour.

For example: All the subjects were told they were naked. One young girl tried desperately to "hide" herself behind another subject; an older married man was completely unnerved. At the same time, my husband tried to "cover" himself as best he could with a handkerchief, looking very miserable indeed.

Finally, the male subjects were told to return to their tables and to kiss their wives more passionately than ever before. My husband I are newlyweds, so you can imagine the results. My husband proceeded to embrace me in a most personal manner, and I was powerless to stop him.

This may be too long to print, but perhaps if you printed part of it, the public might be made aware of this menace and some legal measures can be taken to stop it.

INFURIATED IN SAN DIEGO
DEAR INFURIATED: Hypnosis is now recognized as a therapeutic technique when practiced by trained, responsible professionals, and if there isn't a law against it as "entertainment," there should be. Perhaps if enough citizens "suggested" it — by letter — to their legislators, there will be.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to a church luncheon today, but before I leave I will fix myself a cup of tea first, which brings me to the point of this letter.

I am an ardent tea drinker and I not drink coffee. My cup of tea means as much to me as coffee means to those who just HAVE to have a cup of coffee. However, almost everywhere I go, only coffee is served. If you don't drink coffee, you can just drink water.

Many of the luncheons I attend are church or club luncheons and I pay just as much for my lunch as the coffee drinkers do. I wonder how many people would pay for their lunches if coffee was not served?

AN OLD TEA BAG
DEAR BAG: Since the absence of tea is a source of annoyance to you, you could either phone ahead and request tea, or tote your own tea bags. Your complaint is a valid one, and I'm with you all the way.

DEAR ABBY: "May Bride," who wanted her brother to be best man instead of her fiancé's brother because HER brother was tall and handsome, and her fiancé's brother was a "homely little sawed-off runt":

All I can say is I feel sorry for the man who marries her. And since the height of a child is hereditary, what will she do if she gives birth to a son and he is a "homely sawed-off little runt" like his uncle? Kidnap the best looking baby in the nursery?

HAVERHILL, MASS.
CONFIDENTIAL TO "REX DEI" IN SAN MARINO: Please don't send me any more money.

Tom Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, was awarded the James T. Shea Memorial trophy, an annual award bestowed on an outstanding senior in Pickaway County, at the graduating exercises of the senior class of Logan Elm High School, Monday evening.

His brother, Dr. Peter Smith and Mrs. Smith of Cleveland, and his brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Almonsey of Columbus, were present for the exercises. They remained over Memorial Day and Mrs. Almonsey entertained students from the Dental School at the home of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Hohenstein Jr. joined a group in Columbus who went by bus to Pittsburgh, Pa. to attend the German Song fest called Saenger Fest held at the Civic Auditorium. They left on Friday and returned Monday. Mrs. Hohenstein is a member of the group. The Saenger Fest composed of 3000 to 4000 singers will be held in Columbus in 1970.

Mrs. Ethel Andrews came Wednesday to spend some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Rhoades.

Mrs. Rhoades returned last Saturday from Canton where she had spent two weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Locke and children. The Lockes were here on Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Rhoades.

On Wednesday, Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Miss Lettie Brundige, and Miss Mildred Holderman saw "Hello Dolly" starring Carol Channing at the Veterans' Memorial Aud. in Columbus.

Mr. A. D. Ellis is in Memphis, Tenn. where he attended high school commencement exercises Wednesday evening. His grandson Tim Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ellis, was in the graduating class.

Mrs. Carl Hohenstein is a patient in Berger Hospital where she is receiving treatment for an anemic condition.

Dr. Clyde Reed of Harbor Hills is a medical patient in the hospital at Newark, O.

Mr. Jack Mettler of Kinnikinnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mettler of Kingston, had surgery in Chillicothe Hospital Friday morning.

Camping over the weekend at Burr Oak Lake were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis and Tom, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis, Jim and Kristi, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Likens.

The Bible Study class, which meets on Thursday mornings, met this week at the home of Mrs. Ed Flügge. They are studying the book of John.

The Kingston Civic Club held a picnic on Memorial Day at the Village Park. This was the first picnic held there in the shelterhouse. The men spent their time building swing sets for the children, and the ladies painted the new picnic tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller and Sam and Mrs. Charles Miller enjoyed a scenic ride on Sunday. Some of the places visited were Logan, Nelsonville and Athens. Sam Miller will attend Engineering School at Ohio University next year.

Miss Betsy Boggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Boggs, came Friday to visit over Memorial Day with her parents and brother, Ned. She returned Wednesday to her work in New York City.

Mr. Burton D. Raine of Huntington, W. Va. stopped Friday to see Miss Margaret Thomas and Mrs. Lois Jones. He was on his way to attend the 50th reunion of his class at Ohio State.

The Eves and Elves Mother's Club met at the home of Mrs. Leonard Leadingham for the May meeting. Mrs. John Hamp and Mrs. Paul R. Davis were co-hostesses. Mrs. John B. Greenwalt the president conducted the business meeting. Plans were made to attend the Spring Conference, June 3 at the Sheraton High School at Thornville.

The rest of the time was spent in making bandages for the Cancer Clinic. Instead of a meeting in June, the club will go bowling.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

A Vote Against Fun Hypnotists

DEAR ABBY: Last month my husband, Bob, took me to a popular night spot for dinner. As our dinner was served, a "Dr. X." as I shall call him, was introduced as the evening's entertainment.

Dr. X was billed as "the only hypnotist with a 'Ph.D.'" He asked for volunteers, promising that no one would be embarrassed, and they would all awaken from hypnosis feeling "refreshed."

My husband volunteered, resulting in one of the most shattering and exhausting experiences of his life. And I was subjected to humiliation beyond description, as I witnessed my husband and nine other subjects make fools of themselves for over an hour.

For example: All the subjects were told they were naked. One young girl tried desperately to "hide" herself behind another subject; an older married man was completely unnerfed. At the same time, my husband tried to "cover" himself as best he could with a handkerchief, looking very miserable indeed.

Finally, the male subjects were told to return to their tables and to kiss their wives more passionately than ever before. My husband and I are newlyweds, so you can imagine the results. My husband proceeded to embrace me in a most personal manner, and I was powerless to stop him.

This may be too long to print, but perhaps if you printed part of it, the public might be made

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials of the American Stock Exchange view the present probe into unusual trading on their floor with mixed feelings, for they provided some of the information now tarnishing their image.

This, of course, was their responsibility, for the nation's stock exchanges are self-regulating to a great degree. They must ride herd on themselves in the public interest. They must police themselves.

A federal investigation that led to a grand jury indictment of six defendants for allegedly inflating the prices of shares in Pentron Electronics Corp. appears to predate the exchange's own discoveries.

But it is known that the Amex discovered some facts on its own and volunteered this information to the U.S. district attorney and the Securities and Exchange Commission beginning in March 1966.

This may or may not exonerate the Amex. Still to be answered are questions such as whether or not the unusual trading activity was discovered quickly enough, and whether Amex officials performed their duties adequately.

The machinery for quick action and reporting exists at the Amex as a "stock watch" program, a constant surveillance that calls for investigation of any stock that departs from a price or volume pattern. Pen-tron did.

Early in March 1966 the specialist reportedly noticed that volume had soared to more than a million shares from just 298,000 shares four months earlier. In about the same time the price doubled to $3.75.

Knowing from a previous inquiry that the district attorney was interested, the specialist reported the activity to the D.A. and to the exchange. The exchange reported it to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Amex officials, as is customary under stock watch, set out to find a reason for the activity. They took a close look at Pentron management but apparently failed to receive information to explain the activity.

Standard procedure under stock watch is to then determine which member firms were dealing in the active stock. In turn, member firms would be expected to reveal their customers and the names of the specific brokers.

Stock watch begins routinely each day with 29 men stationed at various floor posts. All are officers of the exchange, and all can poke their noses into any unusual actions.

Sudden price or volume increases are their red flags. They report the stock to the Securities Division, where an employee checks what information is available within the exchange to explain the activity. A recent bullish earnings report? A glowing news story? A bullish market letter? All such matters are kept on file.

The next step is an inquiry to the company. If this reveals a cause—such as a planned but unannounced merger—the company may be told "the market knows the news so you should announce it to all immediately."

There is a way of enforcing this suggestion. The exchange can flash a "trading halted pending announcement" statement on the ticker tape. Trading resumes only after the news is forced out. It generally comes quickly.

If no explanation is provided, however, the Securities Division men attempt to create a trading profile. Who is trading? Is trading concentrated or widespread? Were orders solicited or did they come uninvited?

From the specialist the name of the brokerage houses involved can be obtained. The brokerage houses then reveal their specific customers. They also can say, specifically, which registered representatives took the orders.

Try and Stop Me

HARRY COHN, late Mr. Big of Columbia Pictures, respected only his writers and directors who refused to be bullied by him and gave back as good as they got. Writer

Jo Swerling won Cohn's respect, for instance, the day Cohn screamed at him, "Your blank blank wife just drove smack into my Rolls-Royce." Swerling answered calmly, "She must have thought you were in it."

Playwright Norman Krasna was another who never let Cohn get the better of him. (You'll find these stories, and many more like them in Bob Thomas' book, "King Cohn.") One day Cohn demanded, "Where do you think I was last night?" Krasna guessed, "Night school." Krasna, striving mightily to induce Cohn to release him from an onerous contract, achieved victory when Cohn read about this provision in Krasna's newly drawn will: "I wish to be cremated when I die, and my ashes to be thrown in Harry Cohn's face."

Cohn himself coined the phrase that might be his epitaph: "I don't have ulcers; I GIVE them!"

Philip Sterling tells of wrinkled old Mattie Brown who walked up to the station agent of a tiny West Virginia town and announced, "I want a round trip ticket." "Where to, Miss Mattie?" asked the agent. Mattie snorted, "Why, back here, you fool!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is there any truth to the newspaper reports that banana peel can produce the same effects as LSD?

There are many drugs and foods that have been said to be responsible for hallucinations. Long before LSD became prominent in the news, hashish, peyote, mescaline and psilocybin had been used for what is now called "psychedelic" experiences. Certain kind of mushrooms, morning glory seeds and other plants were said to produce the "high" effect.

A recent craze has spread from coast to coast especially among college students who insist that banana peel can have a psychedelic effect. The potential hazard, if this is true, demands immediate investigation. The Federal Drug Administration has begun a series of laboratory studies to prove or disprove the possibility of another "kick" response from this common food product.

Dr. F. M. Garfield, director of the Bureau of Drug Abuse, says, "I am not sure that there is anything in bananas that could cause the sensation of hallucinations."

Whether or not bananas produce any strange reaction is most important. Far more important, however, to us in the practice of medicine are the social reasons why young people try to compress time and experience with new and strange pleasures as a substitute for the joys of healthy maturity.

Is the heart of an athlete more prone to disease in later life?

All muscles of the body are benefited by well-regulated exercise. The heart, too, is a muscle that grows larger as a result of activity.

There really is no scientific truth to the belief that strenuous exercise can produce an "athlete's heart" which in later life is more prone to heart attacks. A study performed on college athletes and professional athletes has failed to show the relationship between exercise, a powerful heart and heart disease.

Dr. Paul D. White, famous heart specialist, is one of the leading advocates of exercise in all age groups for better health. His favorite, bicycle riding, is recommended for almost everyone unless there is a doctor's specific reason to avoid it.

In distinction there is also a

It's a little country, with a 45-mile wasp waist, and the distance from Dan at its northern extremity to Beersheba in the south is just about the distance between Hoboken, New Jersey, and Cape May at the mouth of the Delaware River. Surrounded by Arab nations, its founders were warned that it might, some day, be drowned in a Moslem sea. Yet, despite its geographical limitations and dangers, something wonderful has been made of it. The old saying that "where the Turk has set foot, the grass never grows" might still pertain to other parts of the Middle East, but not to Israel, which is a monument to loving care and a never-resting pertinacity. If ever a desert has been made to blossom like the rose, modern Israel is it.

Yet the fact of Israel's physical existence is not the most wonderful thing about it. What is really and truly wonderful is that its creation gave Jews, for the first time since the beginning of the 2,000-year Diaspora, a sense of being like all other people. As Willi Schlamm has pointed out in a profound book that has been published in German but not in English, the existence of Israel as a bona fide state has enabled modern Jews to exercise the option that is open to Frenchmen, Englishmen, Dutchmen, and Italians, which is to say, they can choose between citizenship in their own homeland or freely accepted citizenship in other countries. The sense of compulsion is being "outlanders" ended for Jews with the Palestine Armistice Agreement of 1949; henceforward they could be Israelis or adopted Frenchmen, Englishmen or Americans.

The blessing which the creation of Israel bestowed on the western nations was that it effectively curtailed anti-Semitism. True enough, vestigial Judophobia hung on in spots, but it was clearly a "last generation" phenomenon. We were hearing less and less about the alleged conspiracy of the Elders of Zion; the "numerous clausus" had ceased to be exercised by the colleges in accepting Jewish students; mixed marriages between Jews and Gentiles were accepted as a matter of course. The existence of Israel may have offended the Arabs, but it was on its way toward making an end to the offense of anti-Semitism in the West.

For its own moral sanity, then, the West cannot afford to see the Israelis driven into the Mediterranean Sea. This column is convinced that there will be war if Nasser persists in trying to choke the Israeli port of Eilat at the head of the Gulf of Aqaba on the Red Sea side of Suez.

We would be greatly — and pleasantly — surprised if the UN does anything to stop war before it starts, and we would be even more flabbergasted if a four-power summit conference between the U. S., the U.S.S.R., Britain, and France should agree to call Nasser off. Likewise we would be surprised if Lyndon Johnson, with his hands full in Vietnam, were to take the lead all on his own in honoring Eisenhower's commitment to keep the Gulf of Aqaba open. But if the Israelis start to fight without waiting for western military help, the West will surely be in the war before very long. Israel is, in a way, the child of its bad conscience over letting Hitler get away with murdering millions of Jews, and the moral compulsion to defend the child that was born of agony must prove irresistible even if such mundane considerations as European dependence on Middle Eastern oil did not exist.

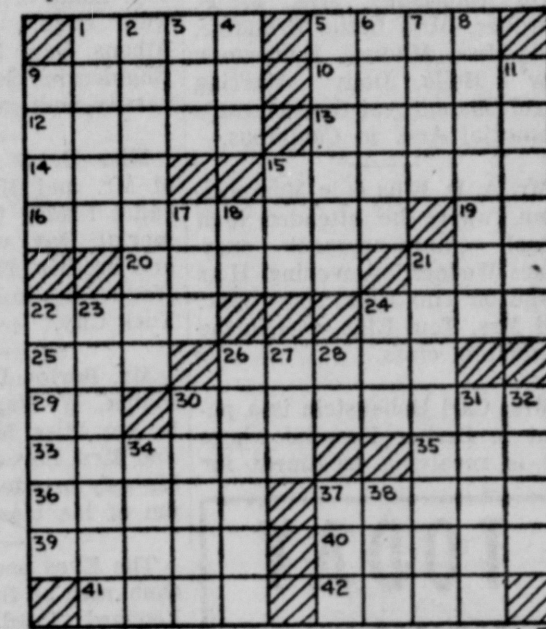

It's never a nice thing to say

"I told you so." But on more than one occasion this columnist has tried to point out that Soviet Russia's desire for co-existence and "detente" was limited to eastern Europe, the better to gain a free hand to push the Cold War in southeast Asia, Africa, and the Middle East. This was not a popular stance to take while the atmosphere of "bridge building" was being so assiduously cultivated in Washington. If the Soviets want real bridge building, they can get it by restraining Nasser and settling for the present boundary between North and South Vietnam.

But why, so it will be asked, should they do this? We could tell them why. In falling in with Nasser's designs on Israel, the Soviets are making the same mistake that Hitler made when he set up the murder of Jews as a cardinal part of his policy. The conscience of the western world won't stand for this sort of thing. Moscow had better be warned by the fate of the 2,000-year Reich. Which, of course, is asking Brezhnev and Kosygin to understand the West, which they are probably incapable of doing.

Columnist's Mail Bag

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The Chinese have an ingenious way of collecting bad debts. The creditor and his family simply move into the debtor's home. Rather than live with his uninvited guests, the debtor usually pays up.

Having children won't necessarily save a foundering marriage. Psychologists say that, in some cases, children increase rather than diminish the tension between wife and husband.

The postwar Japanese are growing up taller and heavier. Better farming methods have enabled them to raise their average daily intake of calories in the past 10 years from 2,162 to 2,353.

The chances are one in 80 that you will need a blood transfusion sometime in the next 12 months. American hospitals now use between five million and six million pints of blood a year.

Yep, you really require sleep to function at your best. Tests show that the more sleep you miss the more errors you make, and people deprived of sleep too long become hallucinated and terror-stricken.

How they started: Folksinger Theodore Bikel sought to be a lawyer. Buddy Hackett, the comedian, studied to be dramatic actor. James Cagney, famed for his tough gangster portrayals, danced in the chorus of musical comedies.

Quotable notables: "We have been god-like in our planned breeding of our domesticated plants and animals, but we have been rabbit-like in our unplanned breeding of ourselves," — historian Arnold Toynbee.

Alcohol is one of man's oldest problems. An Egyptian writer 3,000 years ago wrote this warning against drinking a big jug of beer: "Thou speakest and an unintelligible utterance is sueth from thy mouth. If you faltest down and thy limbs break, there is none to hold out a hand to thee. Thy companions in drink stand up and say: 'Away with this sot. And thou art like a little child.'"

Cleopatra never used a bar of soap in her life. Slaves anointed her body with oil, then hand-rubbed the dirt off.

Folklore: If you put a louse on a baby's head before he is nine days old and then carry him up to the attic, he will have lofty thoughts later in life. An itching left eye is a sign of woe to come. Handing an open pen-knife to a friend will result in a quarrel. If you iron the tail of your husband's shirt, lady, it will make him harsh.

No one really knows what Jesus Christ looked like, whether he was short or tall, handsome or homely, fair or dark. Historians feel sure he was bearded, however, for all Jewish men wore beards at the time he lived.

It was Charles Spurgeon who observed, "It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness."

Dying for dear old Rutgers is a beautiful sentiment but it certainly isn't in the same class to make one happy as does making one's own killing in the World Series—even at current prices for the losers.

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials of the American Stock Exchange view the present probe into unusual trading on their floor with mixed feelings, for they provided some of the information now tarnishing their image.

This, of course, was their responsibility, for the nation's stock exchanges are self-regulating to a great degree. They must ride herd on themselves in the public interest. They must police themselves.

A federal investigation that led to a grand jury indictment of six defendants for allegedly inflating the prices of shares in Pentron Electronics Corp. appears to predate the exchange's own discoveries.

But it is known that the Amex discovered some facts on its own and volunteered this information to the U.S. district attorney and the Securities and Exchange Commission beginning in March 1966.

This may or may not exonerate the Amex. Still to be answered are questions such as whether or not the unusual trading activity was discovered quickly enough, and whether Amex officials performed their duties adequately.

The machinery for quick action and reporting exists at the Amex as a "stock watch" program, a constant surveillance that calls for investigation of any stock that departs from a price or volume pattern. Pentron did.

Early in March 1966 the specialist reportedly noticed that volume had soared to more than a million shares from just 298,000 shares four months earlier. In about the same time the price doubled to $3.75.

Knowing from a previous inquiry that the district attorney was interested, the specialist reported the activity to the D.A. and to the exchange. The exchange reported it to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Amex officials, as is customary under stock watch, set out to find a reason for the activity. They took a close look at Pentron management but apparently failed to receive information to explain the activity.

Standard procedure under stock watch is to then determine which member firms were dealing in the active stock. In turn, member firms would be expected to reveal their customers and the names of the specific brokers.

Stock watch begins routinely each day with 29 men stationed at various floor posts. All are officers of the exchange, and all can poke their noses into any unusual actions.

Sudden price or volume increases are their red flags. They report the stock to the Securities Division, where an employee checks what information is available within the exchange to explain the activity. A recent bullish earnings report? A glowing news story? A bullish market letter? All such matters are kept on file.

The next step is an inquiry to the company. If this reveals a cause—such as a planned but unannounced merger—the company may be told "the market knows the news so you should announce it to all immediately."

There is a way of enforcing this suggestion. The exchange can flash a "trading halted pending announcement" statement on the ticker tape. Trading resumes only after the news is forced out. It generally comes quickly.

If no explanation is provided, however, the Securities Division men attempt to create a trading profile. Who is trading? Is trading concentrated or widespread? Were orders solicited or did they come uninformed?

From the specialist the name of the brokerage houses involved can be obtained. The brokerage houses then reveal their specific customers. They also can say, specifically, which registered representatives took the orders.

HARRY COHN, late Mr. Big of Columbia Pictures, respected only his writers and directors who refused to be bullied by him and gave back as good as they got. Writer Jo Swerling won Cohn's respect, for instance, the day Cohn screamed at him, "Your blank blank wife just drove smack into my Rolls-Royce."

Swerling answered calmly, "She must have thought you were in it." Playwright Norman Krasna was another who never let Cohn get the better of him. (You'll find these stories, and many more like them in Bob Thomas' book, "King Cohn.") One day Cohn demanded, "Where do you think I was last night?" Krasna guessed, "Night school." Krasna, striving mightily to induce Cohn to release him from an onerous contract, achieved victory when Cohn read about this provision in Krasna's newly drawn will: "I wish to be cremated when I die, and my ashes to be thrown in Harry Cohn's face."

Cohn himself coined the phrase that might be his epitaph: "I don't have ulcers; I GIVE them!" Philip Sterling tells of wrinkled old Mattie Brown who walked up to the station agent of a tiny West Virginia town and announced, "I want a round trip ticket." "Where to, Miss Mattie?" asked the agent. Mattie snorted, "Why, back here, you fool!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is there any truth to the newspaper reports that banana peel can produce the same effects as LSD?

There are many drugs and foods that have been said to be responsible for hallucinations. Long before LSD became prominent in the news, hashish, peyote, mescaline and psilocybin had been used for what is now called "psychedelic" experiences. Certain kind of mushrooms, morning glory seeds and other plants were said to produce the "high" effect.

A recent craze has spread from coast to coast especially among college students who insist that banana peel can have a psychedelic effect. The potential hazard, if this is true, demands immediate investigation. The Federal Drug Administration has begun a series of laboratory studies to prove or disprove the possibility of another "kick" response from this common food product.

Dr. F. M. Garfield, director of the Bureau of Drug Abuse, says, "I am not sure that there is anything in bananas that could cause the sensation of hallucinations."

Whether or not bananas produce any strange reaction is most important. Far more important, however, to us in the practice of medicine are the social reasons why young people try to compress time, experience with new and strange pleasures as a substitute for the joys of healthy maturity.

Is the heart of an athlete more prone to disease in later life?

All muscles of the body are benefited by well-regulated exercise. The heart, too, is a muscle that grows larger as a result of activity.

There really is no scientific truth to the belief that strenuous exercise can produce an "athlete's heart" which in later life is more prone to heart attacks. A study performed on college athletes and professional athletes has failed to show the relationship between exercise, a powerful heart and heart disease.

Dr. Paul D. White, famous heart specialist, is one of the leading advocates of exercise in all age groups for better health. His favorite, bicycle riding, is recommended for almost everyone unless there is a doctor's specific reason to avoid it.

In distinction there is also a

It's a little country, with a 45-mile wasp waist, and the distance from Dan at its northern extremity to Beersheba in the south is just about the distance between Hoboken, New Jersey, and Cape May at the mouth of the Delaware River. Surrounded by Arab nations, its founders were warned that it might, some day, be drowned in a Moslem sea. Yet, despite its geographical limitations and dangers, something wonderful has been made of it. The old saying that "where the Turk has set foot, the grass never grows" might still pertain to other parts of the Middle East, but not to Israel, which is a monument to loving care and a never-resting pertinacity. If ever a desert has been made to blossom like the rose, modern Israel is it.

Yet the fact of Israel's physical existence is not the most wonderful thing about it. What is really and truly wonderful is that its creation gave Jews, for the first time since the beginning of the 2,000-year Diaspora, a sense of being like all other people. As Willi Schlamm has pointed out in a profound book that has been published in German but not in English, the existence of Israel as a bona fide state has enabled modern Jews to exercise the option that is open to Frenchmen, Englishmen, Dutchmen, and Italians. Which is to say, they can choose between citizenship in their own homeland or freely accepted citizenship in other countries. The sense of compulsion is being "outlanders" ended for Jews with the Palestine Armistice Agreement of 1948; henceforward they could be Israelis or adopted Frenchmen, Englishmen or Americans.

The blessing which the creation of Israel bestowed on the western nations was that it effectively curtailed anti-Semitism. True enough, vestigial Judophobia hung on in spots, but it was clearly a "last generation" phenomenon. We were hearing less and less about the alleged conspiracy of the Elders of Zion; the "numerus clausus" had ceased to be exercised by the colleges in accepting Jewish students; mixed marriages between Jews and Gentiles were accepted as a matter of course. The existence of Israel may have offended the Arabs, but it was on its way toward making an end to the offense of anti-Semitism in the West.

For its own moral sanity, then, the West cannot afford to see the Israelis driven into the Mediterranean Sea. This column is convinced that there will be war if Nasser persists in trying to choke the Israeli port of Eilat at the head of the Gulf of Aqaba on the Red Sea side of Suez.

We would be greatly — and pleasantly — surprised if the UN does anything to stop war before it starts, and we would be even more flabbergasted if a four-power summit conference between the U. S., the U.S.S.R., Britain, and France should agree to call Nasser off. Likewise we would be surprised if Lyndon Johnson, with his hands full in Vietnam, were to take the lead all on his own in honoring Eisenhower's commitment to keep the Gulf of Aqaba open. But if the Israelis start to fight without waiting for western military help, the West will surely be in the war before very long. Israel is, in a way, the child of its bad conscience over letting Hitler get away with murdering millions of Jews, and the moral compulsion to defend the child that was born of agony must prove irresistible even if such mundane considerations as European dependence on Middle Eastern oil did not exist.

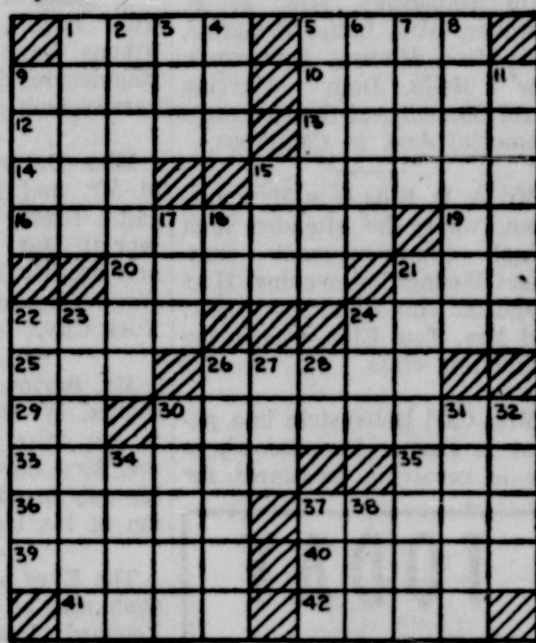

It's never a nice thing to say

"I told you so." But on more than one occasion this columnist has tried to point out that Soviet Russia's desire for co-existence and "detente" was limited to eastern Europe, the better to gain a free hand to push the Cold War in southeast Asia, Africa, and the Middle East. This was not a popular stance to take while the atmosphere of "bridge building" was being so assiduously cultivated in Washington. If the Soviets want real bridge building, they can get it by restraining Nasser and settling for the present boundary between North and South Vietnam.

But why, so it will be asked, should they do this? We could tell them why. In falling in with Nasser's designs on Israel, the Soviets are making the same mistake that Hitler made when he set up the murder of Jews as a cardinal part of his policy. The conscience of the western world won't stand for this sort of thing. Moscow had better be warned by the fate of the 2,000-year Reich. Which, of course, is asking Brezhnev and Kosygin to understand the West, which they are probably incapable of doing.

Columnist's Mail Bag

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The Chinese have an ingenious way of collecting bad debts. The creditor and his family simply move into the debtor's home. Rather than live with his uninvited guests, the debtor usually pays up.

Having children won't necessarily save a foundering marriage. Psychologists say that, in some cases, children increase rather than diminish the tension between wife and husband.

The postwar Japanese are growing up taller and heavier. Better farming methods have enabled them to raise their average daily intake of calories in the past 10 years from 2,162 to 2,353.

The chances are one in 80 that you will need a blood transfusion sometime in the next 12 months. American hospitals now use between five million and six million pints of blood a year.

Yep, you really require sleep to function at your best. Tests show that the more sleep you miss the more errors you make, and people deprived of sleep too long become hallucinated and terror-stricken.

How they started: Folksinger Theodore Bikel sought to be a lawyer. Buddy Hackett, the comedian, studied to be dramatic actor. James Cagney, famed for his tough gangster portrayals, danced in the chorus of musical comedies.

Quotable notables: "We have been god-like in our planned breeding of our domesticated plants and animals, but we have been rabbit-like in our un-planned breeding of ourselves," — historian Arnold Toynbee.

Alcohol is one of man's oldest problems. An Egyptian writer 3,000 years ago wrote this warning against drinking a big jug of beer: "Thou speakest and an unintelligible utterance issue from thy mouth. If you falter down and thy limbs break, there is none to hold out a hand to thee. Thy companions in drink stand up and say: 'Away with this sot. And thou art like a little child.'"

Cleopatra never used a bar of soap in her life. Slaves anointed her body with oil, then hand-rubbed the dirt off.

Folklore: If you put a louse on a baby's head before he is nine days old and then carry him up to the attic, he will have lofty thoughts later in life. An itching left eye is a sign of woe to come. Handing an open pen-knife to a friend will result in a quarrel. If you iron the tail of your husband's shirt, lady, it will make him harsh.

No one really knows what Jesus Christ looked like, whether he was short or tall, handsome or homely, fair or dark. Historians feel sure he was bearded, however, for all Jewish men wore beards at the time he lived.

It was Charles Spurgeon who observed, "It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness."

Occupational Subluxations

DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH

Chiropractor

Spectacular accidents make the headlines. Seldom mentioned are the minor accidents which occur every day on the job or in the home. The National Safety Council reports 15 million nonfatal accidents per year. (Accidents causing less than one day lost time.)

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR BODY — Much of the force of jars, jolts, falls, and strains is absorbed by the body through the spinal column. With severe or repeated strain or concussion a vertebra can be twisted or pulled out of line, pressing nerves passing through openings along the spine. This vertebral subluxation interferes with normal contact between the central nervous system and some part of the body.

Sooner or later normal function is impaired and results in some form of incoordination or disease. Additional strain can increase the subluxation and its effect on the entire system.

DANGER THE "HIDDEN INJURY" — Lack of equipment of its inefficient use causes some occupational injuries.

Improper posture, careless use of the body is by far the greatest source of trouble.

PREVENT THE INJURY — In jobs requiring lifting and carrying, mechanical loading and carrying devices should be provided. If not, learn to lift properly.

If equipment is not available and the load heavy and unwieldy, get someone to help.

If alone, come close to the object, bend the knees holding the load close in. Lift with the knees, not the back.

One out of every ten lost time injuries is the result of back strain. The National Safety Council lists object handling as the main cause of disabling injuries.

AVOID STRAIN — The mailman, newsboy, hodcarrier, waiter or anyone constantly carrying a heavy load should alternate use of shoulders, using each shoulder equally and avoid constant one-sided strain on the spinal column.

Back strain among bookkeepers, draftsmen, stenographers and others can be reduced by a properly tilted board or stretching and relaxing periodically.

The strenuous (and unnecessary) actions such as jumping from trucks, jerking the head back and forth may cause painful and serious subluxations. Reasonable caution can prevent this.

STAY ON THE JOB — In all of the foregoing, common sense can save you much pain and time. The old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" still holds good. But in those cases where possible injury is unavoidable, your family chiropractor can very often find and correct the damage. Regular, periodic check-ups are also one of your best means of insurance, and may keep you on the job without loss of time or pay.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nuclear bomb didn't end war but it does make the big powers a little more thoughtful and a little less overbearing, which is a good excuse for the smaller ones to take advantage of them.

And, in taking advantage of them, the small ones can dare the big ones and even tangle with them, feeling rather safe when they do since, in a sense, the nuclear bomb has immobilized its owners.

A couple of good examples are Vietnam and the Middle East.

If Ho Chi Minh and his North Vietnamese feared they would be wiped off the map with a nuclear blast if they took on the United States, no doubt there would be no war in Vietnam today.

The North Vietnamese have proved themselves tremendously brave but they are neither

By James Marlow

lunatics nor suicide-bent and they would have been both if they had felt, when they got into this war, the United States would use the bomb.

But they had several reasons to know the United States would be reluctant to go that far: the inhumanity of it, the scorchingly bad world reaction, and the possibility the Soviets might get in with their nuclear bombs.

On the other hand, the Soviets themselves have avoided getting directly involved. Vietnam is a long way from Soviet territory and it is within the sphere of Chinese influence, not Soviet.

So the Soviets have been reluctant to butt in, knowing that in a world where one thing leads to another they might, before they knew it, be in a nuclear war with the United States, a war in which Vietnam would be only a minor episode.

The Soviets haven't even ex-

GROUNDBREAKING — The ground breaking ceremony for the new Emmett Chapel Methodist Church Sunday at Logan Elm Village heralded the start of the new construction. Pictured are the participants of the groundbreaking, along with Rev. Foster H. Jenne, pastor and Rev. John E. Longworth, district superintendent and church members. The ceremony was held in good weather on Sunday afternoon with a dedication service being at the building site.

CONTRACT — The contract for the construction of the new building was handed to Mr. James Clark, left. He was representing the Robert A. Clark and Sons, Inc., construction company of Groveport. Handing Clark the contract is Kenneth Shepler, chairman of the Emmett Chapel Methodist Church Building Committee. The ceremonial shovel was put to good use during the afternoon and was kept as a prize after dedication services at the Logan Elm site.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncertainty, conflict of opinion and vacillation on the part of Defense Department and Army officials has slowed the effort to equip U.S. fighting men with a modern rifle, a Senate report says.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee made the charge in a report on the controversy over the merits of the M16 and M14 rifles. The debate is still unresolved, the report said.

The Army standardized the M14 after World War II, but later bought the lightweight, fast-firing M16.

The Senate group, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said it was disturbed "there should have been this amount of uncertainty, inconclusiveness, conflict of opinion and vacillation on a relatively simple weapon such as a rifle. The problems must be multiplied with respect to complex equipment such as missiles, ships and planes."

The senators said they did not

Fire Destroys Batavia Firm

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The Creager Tire Co. in downtown Batavia was destroyed Sunday by a fire that also caused considerable damage to other businesses in the same downtown block.

Police Chief Edward Colonel said no official estimate of the damage had been made, but unofficial estimates went as high as $100,000.

Firemen said the blaze started in a tire warehouse. Smoke from the burning tires were responsible for some of the damage.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke in the three-hour battle with the flames.

erted themselves overmuch in giving other kinds of help to Ho Chi Minh. But, if the United States used nuclear weapons, the Soviets, much as they dreaded it, might feel compelled out of self-consciousness before the Communist world to use nuclear bombs on the United States.

Perhaps Moscow wouldn't have done anything of the kind. But there was always the chance it might. So the United States has limited itself to the so-called traditional bombs in North Vietnam.

And the North Vietnamese, knowing the odds against total destruction for them, took their chance, and while they are not winning they are not losing.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has played the same kind of game, and no doubt for the same kind of reasons, in bringing the Mideast to the edge of war, closing the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping, while increasing his prestige in the Arab world to a new high.

The one missing link in this one, which may make it different from Vietnam, is the Soviet Union because no one at this point seems to know whether the Soviets, to smash Western influence in the area while increasing their own, connived with Nasser to do what he did.

The Soviets know the United States knows that if it takes military action to break Nasser's back so close to the Soviet homeland, the Soviets may come to his aid and, with one shot leading to another, wind up in an American-Soviet nuclear war.

No wonder the Johnson administration has been working in silence and behind the scenes, without threats. Threats might bring responding threats from Moscow and that in itself might force a showdown.

Like the Soviets with Vietnam, President Johnson with the Middle East has to ask himself: Is the Mideast important enough to the United States and its Western allies to risk a nuclear war to save Israel?

The nuclear bomb has even given the big powers a new perspective, for what may seem dreadfully important today may seem inconsequential tomorrow if, after butting heads, all that is left are a few remnants of life.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nuclear bomb didn't end war but it does make the big powers a little more thoughtful and a little less overbearing, which is a good excuse for the smaller ones to take advantage of them.

And, in taking advantage of them, the small ones can dare the big ones and even tangle with them, feeling rather safe when they do since, in a sense, the nuclear bomb has immobilized its owners.

A couple of good examples are Vietnam and the Middle East.

If Ho Chi Minh and his North Vietnamese feared they would be wiped off the map with a nuclear blast if they took on the United States, no doubt there would be no war in Vietnam today.

The North Vietnamese have proved themselves tremendously brave but they are neither lunatics nor suicide-bent and they would have been both if they had felt, when they got into this war, the United States would use the bomb.

But they had several reasons to know the United States would be reluctant to go that far: the inhumanity of it, the scorchingly bad world reaction, and the possibility the Soviets might get in with their nuclear bombs.

On the other hand, the Soviets themselves have avoided getting directly involved. Vietnam is a long way from Soviet territory and it is within the sphere of Chinese influence, not Soviet.

So the Soviets have been reluctant to butt in, knowing that in a world where one thing leads to another they might, before they knew it, be in a nuclear war with the United States, a war in which Vietnam would be only a minor episode.

The Soviets haven't even ex-

erted themselves overmuch in giving other kinds of help to Ho Chi Minh. But, if the United States used nuclear weapons, the Soviets, much as they dreaded it, might feel compelled out of self-consciousness before the Communist world to use nuclear bombs on the United States.

Perhaps Moscow wouldn't have done anything of the kind. But there was always the chance it might. So the United States has limited itself to the so-called traditional bombs in North Vietnam.

GROUND BREAKING — The ground breaking ceremony for the new Emmett Chapel Methodist Church Sunday at Logan Elm Village heralded the start of the new construction. Pictured are the participants of the groundbreaking, along with Rev. Foster H. Jenne, pastor and Rev. John E. Longworth, district superintendent and church members. The ceremony was held in good weather on Sunday afternoon with a dedication service being at the building site.

CONTRACT — The contract for the construction of the new building was handed to Mr. James Clark, left. He was representing the Robert A. Clark and Sons, Inc., construction company of Groveport. Handing Clark the contract is Kenneth Shepler, chairman of the Emmett Chapel Methodist Church Building Committee. The ceremonial shovel was put to good use during the afternoon and was kept as a prize after dedication services at the Logan Elm site.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncertainty, conflict of opinion and vacillation on the part of Defense Department and Army officials has slowed the effort to equip U.S. fighting men with a modern rifle, a Senate report says.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee made the charge in a report on the controversy over the merits of the M16 and M14 rifles. The debate is still unresolved, the report said.

The Army standardized the M14 after World War II, but later bought the lightweight, fast-firing M16.

The Senate group, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said it was disturbed "there should have been this amount of uncertainty, inconclusiveness, conflict of opinion and vacillation on a relatively simple weapon such as a rifle. The problems must be multiplied with respect to complex equipment such as missiles, ships and planes."

The senators said they did not try to judge which is the better rifle because that is a question the military must decide.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, has ordered the M16 for his ground forces, including South Vietnamese soldiers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Lloyd Viel Berkner, whose career as a space scientist ranged from helping aviatrrix Amelia Earhart prepare for her first transatlantic flight in 1923 to conceiving the idea of the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, is dead at 62.

Berkner died in Washington Sunday following an apparent heart attack.

He had suffered a heart attack two years ago and retired as president of the Southwest Center for Advanced Studies in Dallas, Tex.

He received many awards for scientific achievement in work related to the upper atmosphere and radio wave propagation. Last year he was awarded the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's first distinguished public service medal.

Capital Footnotes

Alexander B. Trowbridge, acting secretary of commerce, has urged executives of some 700 companies to intensify their efforts to limit the flow of dollars overseas. The executives are participating in a voluntary balance-of-payments program.

George Stevens Jr., has resigned as head of the United States Information Agency's motion picture and television service. A replacement is expected to be named this week.

The Labor Department reports more workers were involved in 1,635 work stoppages.

Capital Quotes

"He has sought consensus but he has never shrunk from controversy. He has gained huge popularity but he has never failed to spend it in the pursuit of his beliefs or in the interest of his country." — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., discussing President Johnson.

Fire Destroys Batavia Firm

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The Creager Tire Co. in downtown Batavia was destroyed Sunday by a fire that also caused considerable damage to other businesses in the same downtown block.

Police Chief Edward Colonel said no official estimate of the damage had been made, but unofficial estimates went as high as $100,000.

Firemen said the blaze started in a tire warehouse. Smoke from the burning tires were responsible for some of the damage.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke in the three-hour battle with the flames.

Meeker Wins Feature at Atomic Oval

CHILLICOTHE, O. — Veteran Jim Meeker put on a convincing demonstration in winning the delayed Memorial championship at Atomic Speedway Saturday night.

Meeker, who has been racing for 15 years and was well above voting age when he jumped into the game, streaked into the lead from his pole position and was in front all of the way in the 50-lap event.

He always has been one of Atomic's consistent performers with runner-up honors for the two years under the point system. Saturday night's exhibition included a heat race victory and second place in a semi.

Dean Knittel of Portsmouth put the pressure on Meeker most of the race and finished third after Chuck Fletcher of Columbus took over second on the 33rd lap. Fletcher started toward the middle of the 18-car pack with the night's fast qualifying time.

Cincinnati Reds Defeat Atlanta Braves, 5-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — There seems to be a law against the Cincinnati Reds' winning — or losing—a game by more than one run these days.

The Reds ran up a 5-0 lead over Atlanta Sunday, but the Braves came back strongly and the National League leaders had to settle for a 5-4 victory. It was the 14th one-run game in the Reds' last 15 contests.

"I had a haircut the other day and had all the gray hairs cut out. A victory is a victory," joked Manager Dave

Hill Wins At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — His lead in the Memphis Open Golf Tournament dwindling, Dave Hill remembered four years ago at the Hot Springs Open when he overheard someone in the gallery remark: "Hill's folding up."

He didn't fold then, and he mustered enough courage and shook off the butterflies Sunday to win the $100,000 Memphis Open and the biggest check of his 10-year career—$20,000.

Through the first three rounds here, Hill steadily increased his lead to five strokes but began to skid Sunday when Johnny Pott made a dramatic surge on the last 10 holes.

Pott, playing one group in front of Hill, narrowed the gap to three strokes by the time he reached the 18th tee.

Hill knew Pott was gaining, so he buckled down on 17 after suffering four bogeys and a double bogey. He drove the 17th green in one and got his par-3.

On the last hole, he put his second shot into a sand trap, blasted out and two putts gave him a par and the championship.

He finished at eight under par 272 and Pott at 274.

Bristol, who contends one-run victories are the sign of a team that never gives up. He gave the team today off after their fourth victory in a row.

Manager Billy Hitchcock, whose Braves lost three in a row to the Reds, takes a different view of the matter.

"They're still winning by one run. That kind of average won't last long," said Hitchcock.

Bristol had kind words for both starter Jim Maloney, who left in the eighth inning, and newcomer Bob Lee who pitched two perfect innings to save the game for the Reds.

Both sides hit freely in the early innings Sunday. The Reds scored twice in the third inning when Leo Cardenas led off with a double off Ken Johnson and came home when Felipe Alou made a bad throw after fielding Floyd Robinson's single. Robinson took second on the error and scored on Pete Rose's single.

Tony Perez led off with a double in the next inning and crossed the plate on a single by John Edwards. Cardenas—who has not been hitting well this spring—followed with his second home run and the Reds led, 5-0.

Up to that point, the Braves had collected four hits off Maloney, but two of their threats were erased by double plays. But in the fifth, Denis Menke doubled and scored on Woody Woodward's single to center.

In the sixth, Henry Aaron led off with a single and moved to third on Joe Torre's single to right center. One run scored on Rico Carty's double and Torre came home on Cleto Boyer's sacrifice fly.

Aaron, who hit a home run in each game of the Braves-Reds series, connected with a bases - empty blast in the seventh after Mack Jones grounded into a third double play. Maloney left the game in the eighth after Carty led off with a single to left.

ALL-AMERICA — Tim Stonerock (left) who netted All-Sta's honors on the basketball court this year for Circleville High School, receives an honorable mention All-America certificate from his coach, Chuck Hill. Stonerock netted over 25 points per game during the 1966-67 season at CHS. He plans to attend college this fall.

WHY BOTHER WITH ONE-ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS WHEN-

WHOLE-HOUSE GAS AIR CONDITIONING COSTS $14.00 A MONTH TO OWN!

Probably the reason some people are still going for those roaring wind-tunnels called window air conditioners is that they haven't heard how little it costs to own whole-house Gas air conditioning.

Hear it now: Fourteen dollars a month—or less—not only buys a powerful three-ton capacity Gas central air conditioning system, but installs it, too. And there's no down payment.

Does the low price surprise you? It shouldn't, when you consider that a compact Gas air conditioner attaches to your present Gas furnace, converting it instantly into a matched heating-cooling team. Gas air conditioning is the quietest, longest-lived and most trouble-free of any central home-cooling system. And economical Gas can cool your whole house, every room, for a fraction of the cost of keeping a flock of noisy one-room air conditioners in electricity.

Manager Billy Hitchcock, whose Braves lost three in a row to the Reds, takes a different view of the matter.

"They're still winning by one run. That kind of average won't last long," said Hitchcock.

Bristol had kind words for both starter Jim Maloney, who left in the eighth inning, and newcomer Bob Lee who pitched two perfect innings to save the game for the Reds.

Both sides hit freely in the early innings Sunday. The Reds scored twice in the third inning when Leo Cardenas led off with a double off Ken Johnson and came home when Felipe Alou made a bad throw after fielding Floyd Robinson's single. Robinson took second on the error and scored on Pete Rose's single.

Tony Perez led off with a double in the next inning and crossed the plate on a single by John Edwards. Cardenas—who has not been hitting well this spring—followed with his second home run and the Reds led, 5-0.

Up to that point, the Braves had collected four hits off Maloney, but two of their threats were erased by double plays. But in the fifth, Denis Menke doubled and scored on Woody Woodward's single to center.

In the sixth, Henry Aaron led off with a single and moved to third on Joe Torre's single to right center. One run scored on Rico Carty's double and Torre came home on Clete Boyer's sacrifice fly.

Aaron, who hit a home run in each game of the Braves-Reds series, connected with a bases - empty blast in the seventh after Mack Jones grounded into a third double play. Maloney left the game in the eighth after Carty led off with a single to left.

He didn't fold then, and he mustered enough courage and shook off the butterflies Sunday to win the $100,000 Memphis Open and the biggest check of his 10-year career—$20,000.

Through the first three rounds here, Hill steadily increased his lead to five strokes but began to skid Sunday when Johnny Pott made a dramatic surge on the last 10 holes.

Pott, playing one group in front of Hill, narrowed the gap to three strokes by the time he reached the 18th tee.

Hill knew Pott was gaining, so he buckled down on 17 after suffering four bogeys and a double bogey. He drove the 17th green in one and got his par-3.

On the last hole, he put his second shot into a sand trap, blasted out and two putts gave him a par and the championship.

He finished at eight under par 272 and Pott at 274.

WHY BOTHER WITH ONE-ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS WHEN-

WHOLE-HOUSE GAS AIR CONDITIONING COSTS $14.00 A MONTH TO OWN!

Probably the reason some people are still going for those roaring wind-tunnels called window air conditioners is that they haven't heard how little it costs to own whole-house Gas air conditioning.

Hear it now: Fourteen dollars a month—or less—not only buys a powerful three-ton capacity Gas central air conditioning system, but installs it, too. And there's no down payment.

Does the low price surprise you? It shouldn't, when you consider that a compact Gas air conditioner attaches to your present Gas furnace, converting it instantly into a matched heating-cooling team. Gas air conditioning is the quietest, longest-lived and most trouble-free of any central home-cooling system. And economical Gas can cool your whole house, every room, for a fraction of the cost of keeping a flock of noisy one-room air conditioners in electricity.

Send in the no-obligation coupon today, and enjoy summer with cool, healthful air in every room in your home.

Orioles Defeat Washington 7-5

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Andy Etchebarren, unable to hunt, summoned enough energy to launch the high-flying Baltimore Orioles into the air, taking along a couple of patient young baseball fans who must have been flying even higher.

Etchebarren, after failing to bunt twice, cracked a two-run home run in the 19th inning that lifted the Orioles over Washington 7-5, Sunday, ending the longest game of the baseball season.

Beside bringing the Orioles their 14th triumph in 20 games, it sent them winging toward Friendship Airport, where two boys, about 15 years old, had waited through the marathon to fly with the players on a trip of a lifetime for a youngster.

Dick McAuliffe did not wait as long to send the Detroit Tigers back into first place in the American League as he blasted a grand slam homer in the 13th inning for an 11-7 victory over the New York Yankees in the nightcap of their twinbill. New York won the opener 2-0.

Chicago took first place by beating Kansas City 2-0 in the opener of their doubleheader and then fell back by losing 5-4. Elsewhere in the league, Minnesota topped California 8-7 in 10 innings and Cleveland blanked Boston 3-0.

In the National League, Cincinnati stopped Atlanta 5-4, St. Louis edged Chicago 4-3, Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 4-1, Philadelphia tumbled Houston 6-1, and San Francisco swept the New York Mets 7-0 and 5-0.

The two boys in Baltimore were the only other passengers on the Orioles scheduled flight to California to play the Angels tonight. When they discovered they would be traveling with the Orioles, they waited patiently through almost 2½ hours of departure delays until Etchebarren got them airborne.

"I didn't have much strength left," said the Baltimore catcher.

Etchebarren, who was supposed to have the day off, entered the game in the fifth inning. He ended the 5-hour and 18-minute game by connecting off Bob Priddy after Brooks Robinson singled.

The Orioles, who squandered

a 4-0 lead, tied the game 5-5 in the seventh on a double by Russ Snyder and a single by Curt Blefary.

Wally Bunker, Eddie Watt, Eddie Fisher and winner Stu Miller blanked Washington after the Senators scored five times in the third.

McAuliffe unloaded his ninth season homer and fifth career slam with two out after Bill Freehan doubled and loser Doolley Womack walked two.

Pitcher Hank Aguirre had helped Detroit to an early 7-3 lead with a three-run triple, but a homer by John Kennedy started the Yankees back and Jake Gibbs tied it in the ninth with a pinch hit solo clout.

Al Downing, 6-3, hurled the Yankees to the first game victory with a five-hitter and got enough runs in the first inning on Joe Pepione's two-run homer off Mickey Lolich.

The White Sox fell one game back of Detroit when pitcher Jim Nash capped a four-run fourth inning with a decisive run-scoring single that put Kansas City ahead 5-1 in their nightcap. Nash picked up the victory, but left in the eighth inning when Timmie Agee closed the gap to one run with a two-run homer.

Tommy John had started the White Sox off right with his first shutout of the year, a five-hitter that produced two runs driven home by Ken Berry's fourth-inning single. Jim "Catfish" Hunter took the loss.

Cleveland's Steve Hargan, 7-4, stopped Boston with his fourth shutout of the season, also a five-hitter. He got homer help from Leon Wagner, who hit his eighth leading off the fourth. Chuck Hinton and Fred Whitfield singled in the other runs.

Indians Scalp Red Sox, 3-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steve Hargan, who has four shutouts and a 1.74 earned run average, sat in front of his locker and said he wasn't completely satisfied with a five-hit, 3-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

The crowd of 27,395, largest of the season, might disagree. The fans watched the 24-year-old Cleveland Indians right-hander boost his record to 7-4, best on the staff.

"I can't honestly say this was my best game," Hargan said. "But I had good stuff. My slider was really working and, for a change, I had a decent curve."

It was the sixth game in which Hargan hasn't allowed an earned run. He struck out six and walked two.

Hargan needed only one run and Leon Wagner provided it with a home run into the right field seats in the fourth inning, his eighth of the season.

The Indians added single runs in the fifth and eighth. Hargan was in serious trouble only once, when he loaded the bases with one out in the fifth.

Rico Petrocelli walked and Joe Foy singled. After Mike Ryan fouled out, all runners were safe when starter Lee Stange sacrificed. Reggie Smith then hit into a double play to end the inning, bouncing to second.

Chuck Hinton's single in the fifth drove in Larry Brown, who had walked and moved up on Hargan's sacrifice. Fred Whitfield singled off reliever John Wyatt in the eighth, driving in Vic Davallilo.

Davallilo was a pinch runner for Wagner and moved up on Rocky Colavito's infield ground-er.

The Indians open a five-game series against the Minnesota Twins tonight in Minneapolis, with Sam McDowell going in the opener.

Cleveland Heights Wins 4-Mile Relay

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Heights runners were clocked at 18:09.8 in winning the first annual 4-mile high school invitational relay here Saturday.

The relay, sponsored by Cleveland St. Joseph, was held here because of Mansfield's central location. Following the winners were Shaker Heights, 18:21.0; Cleveland St. Joseph, 18:27.7; Toledo Libbey, 18:34.2; Worthington, 18:37.0; Western Reserve Academy, 18:56.4.

Bob Allison put a stop to another extra inning affair when he squeezed home pinch runner Ted Uhlaender in the 10th inning for Minnesota's victory. Uhlaender ran for Rich Rolins, who opened the inning with a single, and reached third on a walk and forceout.
The Twins and Angels had homered each other to a stand-off before the bunt as Harmon Killebrew belted a 500-foot solo drive and Zoilo Versalles hit one with two on for the Twins, and Rick Reichardt hit a two-run blast and Bob Rodgers and John Werhas homered with none on for the Angels.

Orioles Defeat Washington 7-5

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Andy Etchebarren, unable to bunt, summoned enough energy to launch the high-flying Baltimore Orioles into the air, taking along a couple of patient young baseball fans who must have been flying even higher.

Etchebarren, after failing to bunt twice, cracked a two-run home run in the 19th inning that lifted the Orioles over Washington 7-5, Sunday, ending the longest game of the baseball season.

Beside bringing the Orioles their 14th triumph in 20 games, it sent them winging toward Friendship Airport, where two boys, about 15 years old, had waited through the marathon to fly with the players on a trip of a lifetime for a youngster.

Dick McAuliffe did not wait as long to send the Detroit Tigers back into first place in the American League as he blasted a grand slam homer in the 13th inning for an 11-7 victory over the New York Yankees in the nightcap of their twinbill. New York won the opener 2-0.

Chicago took first place by beating Kansas City 2-0 in the opener of their doubleheader and then fell back by losing 5-4.

Elsewhere in the league, Minnesota topped California 3-7 in 10 innings and Cleveland blanked Boston 3-0.

In the National League, Cincinnati stopped Atlanta 5-4, St. Louis edged Chicago 4-3, Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 4-1, Philadelphia tumbled Houston 6-1, and San Francisco swept the New York Mets 7-0 and 5-0.

The two boys in Baltimore were the only other passengers on the Orioles scheduled flight to California to play the Angels tonight. When they discovered they would be traveling with the Orioles, they waited patiently through almost 2½ hours of departure delays until Etchebarren got them airborne.

"I didn't have much strength left," said the Baltimore catcher.

Etchebarren, who was supposed to have the day off, entered the game in the fifth inning. He ended the 5-hour and 18 minute game by connecting off Bob Priddy after Brooks Robinson singled.

The Orioles, who squandered

a 4-0 lead, tied the game 5-5 in the seventh on a double by Russ Snyder and a single by Curt Blefary.

Wally Bunker, Eddie Watt, Eddie Fisher and winner Stu Miller blanked Washington after the Senators scored five times in the third.

McAuliffe unloaded his ninth season homer and fifth career slam with two out after Bill Freehan doubled and loser Doolley Womack walked two.

Pitcher Hank Aguirre had helped Detroit to an early 7-3 lead with a three-run triple, but a homer by John Kennedy started the Yankees back and Jake Gibbs tied it in the ninth with a pinch hit solo out.

Al Downing, 6-3, hurled the Yankees to the first game victory with a five-hitter and got enough runs in the first inning on Joe Pepitone's two-run homer off Mickey Lolich.

The White Sox fell one game back of Detroit when pitcher Jim Nash capped a four-run fourth inning with a decisive run-scoring single that put Kansas City ahead 5-1 in their nightcap. Nash picked up the victory, but left in the eighth inning when Timmie Agee closed the gap to one run with a two-run homer.

Tommy John had started the White Sox off right with his first shutout of the year, a five-hitter that produced two runs driven home by Ken Berry's fourth-inning single. Jim "Catfish" Hunter took the loss.

Cleveland's Steve Hargan, 7-4, stopped Boston with his fourth shutout of the season, also a five-hitter. He got homer help from Leon Wagner, who hit his eighth leading off the fourth. Chuck Hinton and Fred Whitfield singled in the other runs.

Indians Scalp Red Sox, 3-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steve Hargan, who has four shutouts and a 1.74 earned run average, sat in front of his locker and said he wasn't completely satisfied with a five-hit, 3-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

The crowd of 27,395, largest of the season, might disagree. The fans watched the 24-year-old Cleveland Indians right-hander boost his record to 7-4, best on the staff.

"I can't honestly say this was my best game," Hargan said. "But I had good stuff. My slider was really working and, for a change, I had a decent curve."

It was the sixth game in which Hargan hasn't allowed an earned run. He struck out six and walked two.

Hargan needed only one run and Leon Wagner provided it with a home run into the right field seats in the fourth inning, his eighth of the season.

The Indians added single runs in the fifth and eighth.

Hargan was in serious trouble only once, when he loaded the bases with one out in the fifth.

Rico Petrocelli walked and Joe Foy singled. After Mike Ryan fouled out, all runners were safe when starter Lee Stange sacrificed. Reggie Smith then hit into a double play to end the inning, bouncing to second.

Chuck Hinton's single in the fifth drove in Larry Brown, who had walked and moved up on Hargan's sacrifice. Fred Whitfield singled off reliever John Wyatt in the eighth, driving in Vic Davallilo.

Davallilo was a pinch runner for Wagner and moved up on Rocky Colavito's infield ground-er.

The Indians open a five-game series against the Minnesota Twins tonight in Minneapolis, with Sam McDowell going in the opener.

Cleveland Heights Wins 4-Mile Relay

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Heights runners were clocked at 18:09.8 in winning the first annual 4-mile high school invitational relay here Saturday.

The relay, sponsored by Cleveland St. Joseph, was held here because of Mansfield's central location. Following the winners were Shaker Heights, 18:21.0; Cleveland St. Joseph, 18:27.7; Toledo Libbey, 18:34.2; Worthington, 18:37.0; Western Reserve Academy, 18:58.4.

Ohio Legislature

Lawmakers Already Have Thought of Adjournment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio lawmakers still facing a mountain of bills and major decisions on taxes, education, and welfare already have started to talk about final adjournment.

But even the most optimistic predictions at this point indicate many think the session can be wound up no earlier than about the middle of August. That would be about two weeks short of the 1965 record session.

Majority Republicans mention Aug. 15 as "a target date" but concede that problems of possible new taxes to pour more money into schools and possibly welfare programs could create a bottleneck.

Senate hearings this week and next on the House-approved $4.9 billion budget bill could help get that obstacle out of the way. Senate Finance Chairman Robert R. Shaw R - 16 Franklin said he hoped to complete hearings and set the stage for a floor vote within three weeks.

Work must begin soon, however, on a supplemental appropriations bill to provide about $220 million in additional funds for education promised by the administration. This means additional revenue which will have to come from some sort of tax increase.

The Ohio Tax Study Commission, created by the last legislature to explore new revenue sources, is expected to submit its formal report at a meeting Thursday. Spokesmen said the report will list several possible sources but not recommend a specific source.

That will be up to Gov. James A. Rhodes' so-called "supper committee" which will review the commission report along with other information.

Only a handful of routine bills were on Senate and House calendars for tonight's beginning of the legislative work week. But members of both chambers face one of the heaviest committee schedules of the session.

Besides eight scheduled hearings by Shaw's committee on the budget, other major legislation slated for an airing between tonight and Thursday would allow private insurance companies to sell workmen's compensation and require municipalities to share income taxes collected from non-residents who work in the municipalities.

The Senate called for a vote tonight on a bill setting a statewide minimum age for children entering the first grade.

It would require that in 1967-68 a child must be six years old by Oct. 31 to enter school in the fall term and, after 1969, six by Sept. 30.

Box Office Confessional Doesn't Bother Students

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa. (AP) — The marquee over the Roxy Theater offers "The Blue Max" and "Fanny Hill, Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure." But the line of young people who gather on Sunday aren't going to see the movies.

They're waiting to confess in the box office.

The Rev. Richard Ragni, a Roman Catholic priest, sits behind a folding screen in the cramped little booth. Afterward all adjourn to the padded seats of the musty theater, a portable altar is pulled down beneath the glittering screen and Mass is celebrated.

When there's no place else, the Church must make do, says Father Ragni, 33, a former Air Force intelligence agent.

"The Church is really very flexible in the presentation of the sacramental life. The priest can say Mass anywhere when it comes down to it. We don't need a big facility like a marble cathedral to function."

"Using the ticket booth and the theater may be a bit unorthodox, but the students and I don't have any qualms about it."

For Father Ragni and the 1,100 Roman Catholics among the students of Slippery Rock State College, use of the theater is a necessity. There are no facilities on campus for religious services. St. Peter's, the only Catholic church in this college town 50 miles north of Pittsburgh, is too small. Mass is celebrated twice each Sunday at the Roxy. There are no movies shown there on Sundays.

"I found the ticket booth as a confessional is ideal, and so is the theater for Mass," Father Ragni says. "The students feel it is their own."

The students agree.

"The fact that it is for the students and separate from the rest of the community is the best thing about it," says Dennis Moskalski, 21, a junior from New Kensington, Pa.

As for offering confession in a ticket booth, Moskalski says, "It's the same as any confessional, only the outside is changed."

The students also take a bigger part in the Mass. Prayers are sung of tunes such as Beatles "Yesterday," "Understanding Love" and "More."

"The music we sing and listen to is our type of music," says Janet Infante, 20, a sophomore from Pittsburgh. "We change the words of contemporary songs to prayers and sing to the accompaniment of two guitars strummed in the rear of the theater by fellow students."

Views on TV - Radio

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From this reviewer an award to Lucille Ball for injecting the only note of drama into Sunday night's Emmy awards.

"The last time I thought they gave it to me because I'd had a baby," said tearful winner Lucy, "and that baby—Desi Arnaz Jr.—is 14 years old now."

So what if Miss Ball was off a couple of years and her last Emmy was 12 years ago, not 14? The excitement-starved crowd loved her.

Another award to spry Jimmy Durante for the liveliest comedy touches. Proceeding "wid further adoo" to present an Emmy he croaked as his tongue tangled in the script: "What a night for my interpreter to get sick!"

Otherwise, the 19th annual awards of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences was largely pretty dull going — for live audiences in Hollywood and New York and television viewers in between.

During a commercial break, emcee Joey Bishop, who stood with his legs crossed at the podium much of the time, told the Hollywood crowd: "I'd like to keep the show moving — there's a wedding booked here in half an hour."

But neither he nor Hugh Downs, who presided over the New York festivities, could prod much life into the ponderous proceedings with their sealed envelopes, technical awards and repetitious speeches.

Neither man, after all, is a Bob Hope, veteran sparkplug of the Oscar ceremonies. Downs, an affable straight man, reminded all that "there are no losers, just to be nominated is a great honor."

The Hollywood presentations were in the Los Angeles Room of the Century Plaza Hotel, a vast chamber with atrocious echoing acoustics. Many people present, their eardrums blasted by the orchestra's trombones, were blocked by a sea of heads from any view of the goings-on.

Excerpts from Robert Goulet and Toscanini performances, projected on inadequate monitor screens, were excuses for renewed gabbing and guzzling by the crowd.

There was even chatter when Downs, in New York, was paying tribute to the late Walt Disney for furthering "the cause of international understanding."

It was pleasant to see bulky, smiling Frances Bavier win an Emmy after seven years' toil as folksy Aunt Bea on the "The Andy Griffith Show." It was the first Emmy nomination for the native of New York City, a veteran of the stage and television.

Runner-up for the light touch: James Frawley who said he'd have to share his Emmy for directing a segment of "The Monkees" with "four really funny guys." He named not the expectant Monkees but "Harpo,

Many Notables Speak To Ohio College Grads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They came from near and far — clergymen and statesmen — to lay before another generation the challenges and problems of today's world.

Sunday was a commencement day in Ohio with several colleges and universities handing out their latest batches of diplomas.

And among the notables speaking to Ohio graduates were the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, controversial Episcopal theologian; Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Foy D. Ohler, undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Gov. James A. Rhodes got in on the act too, speaking twice while receiving honorary degrees at Ohio University and Otterbein College.

Both the United States and the Communists have been substituting myths for reality, the Rev. Mr. Pike told Wilmington College's graduating class of 150.

Myths, he said, have taken the place of facts in most discussions about Vietnam. He advised his audience not to answer any questions about the war "until you and the other person have exchanged myths through which you have formed your opinions."

Kohler, speaking before 90

graduating seniors at Findlay College, praised Ohio as a state which is rejecting an isolationist philosophy often reflective of the Midwest.

He said America is awakening to its responsibilities as a world leader and Ohio with it.

Udall, before addressing Bowling Green State University's graduating class, stopped off in Toledo for a news conference.

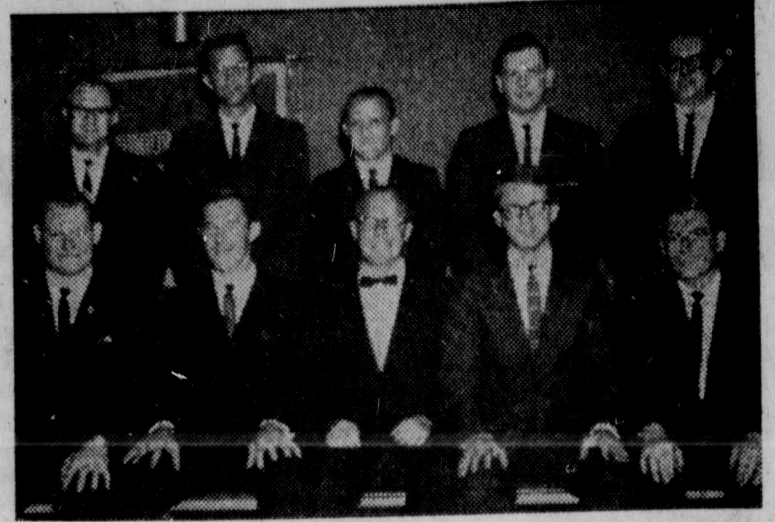

In Toledo he said some states "are aiming too low" in the fight to curb water pollution. "Ohio is one of the states I'd like to see do more," the Interior secretary added.

At Bowling Green, he stressed the need for upgrading higher education.

At the Ohio U. commencement, President Vernon R. Alden told the graduating class that there are opportunities "in our open society for both the discontented and the idealistic." But he added to make a productive impact upon society, the graduates would have to live and work within an existing framework.

John W. Galbreath of Columbus was awarded Ohio U.'s highest honor, a Founders' Citation.

Galbreath, a 1920 graduate of OU and retiring chairman of the board of trustees, has been a member of the board since 1951.

NEW OFFICERS — New officers for the Jaycees in 1967-68 were installed Saturday. They are, left to right, first row: Gary Pack, vice president of Ohio District 10, installing officer; Asa Elsea, administrative vice president; Tom Elsea, president; Lou Marcy, secretary; Bob Scranton, treasurer. Standing are members of the board of directors. From left they are: Dr. Robert Liggett, Dick Huggins, Ray Parks, Rex Crossley and Larry Knisley. Not present were Terry Barthelmas, programming vice president and Jerry Leist, a director.

John Grigg To Receive Degree

John Edward Grigg, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Grigg of 905 N. Atwater Ave., is slated to receive his Bachelor of Science degree during the 95th Commencement ceremonies at Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, Va. He is to receive his degree in industrial engineering.

There are to be more than 1,500 degrees awarded at the commencement exercises which will be held at the university coliseum Sunday.

The commencement exercises are scheduled at 10:30 a. m. with Governor Mills E. Godwin Jr. giving the address. Degrees will be conferred by Virginia Tech's president, Dr. T. Marshall Hahn Jr.

A reception for the graduating class, parents and friends will be held at 4:30 p. m. Saturday at President Hahn's home on the campus. The Varsity Glee Club also will present a Commencement Concert in Burruss Hall at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Marine Amputee Is Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Marine from Canton, Ohio, who lost a leg in Vietnam fighting was honored by the Johnstown, Pa., Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital here.

The Marine, Cpl. Donald Schweitzer, 19, whose right leg was amputated after it was injured by a booby trap near Da Nang last July, was "adopted" last month by the Johnstown Jaycees after they met him at their annual convention here. Schweitzer was made an honorary Jaycee when he was visited in the hospital Saturday.

$220 million in additional funds for education promised by the administration. This means additional revenue which will have to come from some sort of tax increase.

The Ohio Tax Study Commission, created by the last legislature to explore new revenue sources, is expected to submit its formal report at a meeting Thursday. Spokesmen said the report will list several possible sources but not recommend a specific source.

That will be up to Gov. James A. Rhodes' so-called "supper committee" which will review the commission report along with other information.

Only a handful of routine bills were on Senate and House calendars for tonight's beginning of the legislative work week. But members of both chambers face one of the heaviest committee schedules of the session.

Besides eight scheduled hearings by Shaw's committee on the budget, other major legislation slated for an airing between tonight and Thursday would allow private insurance companies to sell workmen's compensation and require municipalities to share income taxes collected from non-residents who work in the municipalities.

The Senate called for a vote tonight on a bill setting a statewide minimum age for children entering the first grade.

It would require that in 1967-68 a child must be six years old by Oct. 31 to enter school in the fall term and, after 1969, six by Sept. 30.

Box Office Confessional Doesn't Bother Students

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa. (AP) — The marquee over the Roxy Theater offers "The Blue Max" and "Fanny Hill, Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure." But the line of young people who gather on Sunday aren't going to see the movies.

They're waiting to confess in the box office.

The Rev. Richard Ragni, a Roman Catholic priest, sits behind a folding screen in the cramped little booth. Afterward all adjourn to the padded seats of the musty theater, a portable altar is pulled from beneath the glittering screen and Mass is celebrated.

When there's no place else, the Church must make do, says Father Ragni, 33, a former Air Force intelligence agent.

"The Church is really very flexible in the presentation of the sacramental life. The priest can say Mass anywhere when it comes down to it. We don't need a big facility like a marble cathedral to function."

"Using the ticket booth and the theater may be a bit unorthodox, but the students and I don't have any qualms about it."

For Father Ragni and the 1-100 Roman Catholics among the students of Slippery Rock State College, use of the theater is a necessity. There are no facilities on campus for religious services. St. Peter's, the only Catholic church in this college town 50 miles north of Pittsburgh, is too small. Mass is celebrated twice each Sunday at the Roxy. There are no movies shown there on Sundays.

"I found the ticket booth as a confessional is ideal, and so is the theater for Mass," Father Ragni says. "The students feel it is their own."

The students agree.

"The fact that it is for the students and separate from the rest of the community is the best thing about it," says Dennis Moskalski, 21, a junior from New Kensington, Pa.

As for offering confession in a ticket booth, Moskalski says, "It's the same as any confessional, only the outside is changed."

The students also take a bigger part in the Mass. Prayers are sung of tunes such as Beatles "Yesterday," "Understanding Love" and "More."

"The music we sing and listen to is our type of music," says Janet Infante, 20, a sophomore from Pittsburgh. "We change the words of contemporary songs to prayers and sing to the accompaniment of two guitars strummed in the rear of the theater by fellow students."

Views on TV - Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From this reviewer an award to Lucille Ball for injecting the only note of drama into Sunday night's Emmy awards.

"The last time I thought they gave it to me because I'd had a baby," said tearful winner Lucy, "and that baby—Desi Arnaz Jr.—is 14 years old now."

So what if Miss Ball was off a couple of years and her last Emmy was 12 years ago, not 14? The excitement-starved crowd loved her.

Another award to spy Jimmy Durante for the liveliest comedy touches. Proceeding "wid further adoo" to present an Emmy he croaked as his tongue tangled in the script: "What a night for my interpreter to get sick!"

Otherwise, the 19th annual awards of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences was largely pretty dull going — for live audiences in Hollywood and New York and television viewers in between.

During a commercial break, emcee Joey Bishop, who stood with his legs crossed at the podium much of the time, told the Hollywood crowd: "I'd like to keep the show moving — there's a wedding booked here in half an hour."

But neither he nor Hugh Downs, who presided over the New York festivities, could prod much life into the ponderous proceedings with their sealed envelopes, technical awards and repetitious speeches.

Neither man, after all, is a Bob Hope, veteran sparkplug of the Oscar ceremonies. Downs, an affable straight man, reminded all that "there are no losers, just to be nominated is a great honor."

The Hollywood presentations were in the Los Angeles Room of the Century Plaza Hotel, a vast chamber with atrocious echoing acoustics. Many people present, their eardrums blasted by the orchestra's trombones, were blocked by a sea of heads from any view of the goings-on.

Excerpts from Robert Goulet and Toscanini performances, projected on inadequate monitor screens, were excuses for renewed gabbing and guzzling by the crowd.

There was even chatter when Downs, in New York, was paying tribute to the late Walt Disney for furthering "the cause of international understanding."

It was pleasant to see bulky, smiling Frances Bavier win an Emmy after seven years' toil as folksy Aunt Bea on the "The Andy Griffith Show." It was the first Emmy nomination for the native of New York City, a veteran of the stage and television.

Runner-up for the light touch: James Frawley who said he'd have to share his Emmy for directing a segment of "The Monkees" with "four really funny guys." He named not the expectant Monkees but "Harpo,

Many Notables Speak To Ohio College Grads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They came from near and far — clergymen and statesmen — to lay before another generation the challenges and problems of today's world.

Sunday was a commencement day in Ohio with several colleges and universities handing out their latest batches of diplomas.

And among the notables speaking to Ohio graduates were the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, controversial Episcopal theologian; Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Foy D. Ohler, undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Gov. James A. Rhodes got in on the act too, speaking twice while receiving honorary degrees at Ohio University and Otterbein College.

Both the United States and the Communists have been substituting myths for reality, the Rev. Mr. Pike told Wilmington College's graduating class of 150.

Myths, he said, have taken the place of facts in most discussions about Vietnam. He advised his audience not to answer any questions about the war "until you and the other person have exchanged myths through which you have formed your opinions."

Kohler, speaking before 90

graduating seniors at Findlay College, praised Ohio as a state which is rejecting an isolationist philosophy often reflective of the Midwest.

He said America is awakening to its responsibilities as a world leader and Ohio with it. Udall, before addressing Bowling Green State University's graduating class, stopped off in Toledo for a news conference.

In Toledo he said some states "are aiming too low" in the fight to curb water pollution. "Ohio is one of the states I'd like to see do more," the Interior secretary added.

At Bowling Green, he stressed the need for upgrading higher education.

At the Ohio U. commencement, President Vernon R. Alden told the graduating class that there are opportunities "in our open society for both the discontented and the idealistic." But he added to make a productive impact upon society, the graduates would "have to live and work within an existing framework."

John W. Galbreath of Columbus was awarded Ohio U.'s highest honor, a Founders' Citation.

Galbreath, a 1920 graduate of OU and retiring chairman of the board of trustees, has been a member of the board since 1951.

Marine Amputee Is Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Marine from Canton, Ohio, who lost a leg in Vietnam fighting was honored by the Johnstown, Pa., Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital here.

The Marine, Cpl. Donald Schweitzer, 19, whose right leg was amputated after it was injured by a booby trap near Da Nang last July, was "adopted" last month by the Johnstown Jaycees after they met him at their annual convention here. Schweitzer was made an honorary Jaycee when he was visited in the hospital Saturday.

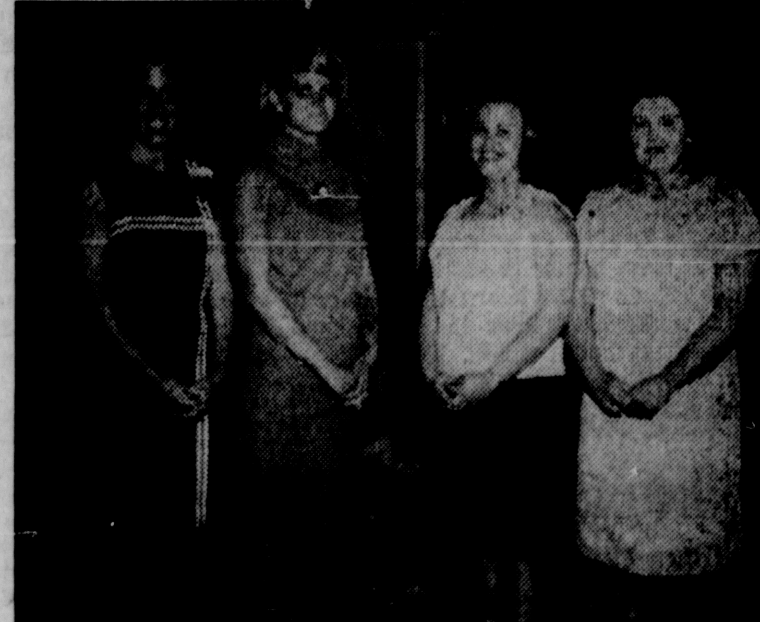

Gas Employees Reject Proposal
